Student Satisfaction Survey, 2023-2024

Preliminary Analysis of the feedbacks received:

- Out of the total 409 responses, 87.5 per cent submitted for the first time and 12.5 per cent submitted other times.
- Out of the 409 respondents 47.9 per cent were male and 52.1 percent were female and 100 per cent were pursuing their under graduation.
- Stream wise analysis projects that 94.4 per cent responses were from Arts Stream, 6.6 per cent from Commerce stream.

Analysis:

Based on the responses collected from the Student Satisfaction Survey 2023-2024, following are the analysis made in the respective areas:

In terms of syllabus coverage, an overwhelming 67 per cent of students indicated that 85-100 per cent of the syllabus is covered, while 26.4 per cent reported coverage in the range of 70-84 per cent. Regarding teacher preparedness, a significant proportion of students expressed satisfaction, with 27.4 per cent noting that teachers effectively illustrate concepts through examples and applications.

Assessing the communication abilities of teachers, 37.2 per cent of students affirmed that teachers are always effective in their communication, while 35.2 per cent commented it is satisfactory. 39.6 per cent responded that the teachers' approach to teaching is commendable. In the area of internal evaluation, nearly half of the students (43.8 per cent) acknowledged that teachers consistently exhibit fairness.

Moreover, 38.1 per cent of students reported that their performance in assignments is usually discussed in class.

A majority of students perceive the teaching and mentoring processes in the college as very well, with 42.8 per cent noting that teachers reasonably identify their strengths and provide encouragement. 37.5 per cent of the students expressed that the teachers usually identify their weaknesses and offer support.

In terms of the overall quality of the teaching-learning process, a substantial 51.6 per cent of students agreed that the college excels, describing the experience as very good.

On the whole, analysis of the Student Satisfaction Survey is found to be positive and satisfactory.

However, certain areas that require improvement are in the area of teachers communication skill, feedback and discussion of assignments, effective teaching method incorporating examples and applications and identification of student strengths and weaknesses involving a comprehensive assessment of their academic, social and personal capabilities to positively impact student experience.
