Life is amazing, but it is also fraught with uncertainty. There are times when we lose hope, become frustrated, and everything appears meaningless. But Isaiah 40:31 says "but those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint." What a reassuringly beautiful passage!

Have hope in the Lord and work hard and He will help you fulfill the purpose he has for you. It is His will that you succeed, live a fulfilling life, and Soar!

PRINCIPAL, KOHIMA CAMPUS

Greetings to all the outgoing students of B.A and B.Com in the most blessed name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I extend my heartfelt congratulations on completing your undergraduate studies.

Today, we are living in a world of distractions where temporary entertainment, social media and the environment itself makes it difficult for us to focus on our primary goals. Uncountable glamorous advertisements by private agencies seeking young and intelligent people to work for them are on the rise. Although appealing, these jobs provides no security. For such agencies, a person is only worthwhile if he or she is healthy, attractive and smart. Human life is constantly changing and when a person crosses a certain age or maturity level, agencies let go of them in favor of fresher, smarter and younger people. As a result, the older ones become unemployed at a crucial period in their lives when financial security is most needed.

Therefore, at this juncture, a person should focus and be determined to secure a stable job and seek to enhance their career with interest. Temporary pleasures and opportunities should not obstruct you in focusing on your future. After crossing the prime phase of your life, it becomes more difficult to find opportunities and in this fiercely competitive world, a stable job is very important to liviving a good life and providing economic security in old age. Success belongs to only those who focus, learn and act decisively. It is important to remember that we should not only focus on our own success but also strive to bring glory to our community.

I wish you all the best for your future professional endeavours.

PRINCIPAL, SECHÜ CAMPUS

It gives me joy and satisfaction to learn that the 13th edition of the college yearbook is ready for publication for which I congratulate the entire editorial team for their hard work and dedication in producing the annual yearbook. I am equally grateful to the teaching and non-teaching staff of Kohima campus and Sechü campus for their immense contribution towards the growth and upliftment of the College throughout the year.

The outgoing batch joined during the transition phase of the education system where the old semester system got merged with Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) in the year 2022 and within a span of one year this batch was made to shift to another newly introduced system of education known as Four Year Undergraduate Program (FYUGP) from the third semester in the year 2023. The newly introduced program incorporates the basic principles of National Education Policy (2020) which emphasizes on imparting holistic and multidisciplinary education to the learners which gives the students to opt for different inter-disciplinary, intra-disciplinary and skill-based courses depending upon their interest. Following the course structure of the new educational system, the college often organized hard and soft skill-based trainings in both the campuses by engaging experts from different fields over the past semesters where many students got benefited from those training programs. The outgoing batch is privileged to be molded and groomed under the latest educational system where they are exposed to both theoretical and practical aspect of education thereby, paving the way to navigate their path towards achieving their dreams and ambitions. We are grateful to each and every student for choosing Baptist College as a destination place to pursue your higher studies. Wishing you all success in your future endeavors. To conclude let me quote Collin Powell who says “A dream doesn’t become a reality through magic, it takes sweat, determination and hard work”.

VICE PRINCIPAL

My dear students,

Your quest for knowledge, wisdom and higher learning has finally reached a stage where decisions made now will define where and what you will be in life. As you graduate, remember the road may be winding and circuitous but each turn will bring challenges and opportunities. Spread your wings and soar to new heights of success and fulfilment. Most of all, believe in yourself and all that you are. Know that there is something in you that is greater than any obstacle. Possibilities in life are vast and limitless. Embrace those with open arms and believe in your own abilities. You will be amazed at what you can achieve. I wish each and every one of you the very best for the future. God bless!

As I sit and try to gather my thoughts for this batch, I am filled with bittersweet emotion, because we started off our journey here the same year I joined the college. But you all will be leaving me behind in pursuit of your dreams. I am so proud of the man and woman you have become. I know life has not been easy but you fought well and here you are, at the finish line of your journey. No matter what the world tells you, I want you to know that you are all winners. I am more than excited at what the future holds for you and see you become the man and woman that God wants you to be.

We met as strangers, students and staff but now I see you leaving as leaders, dreamers, achievers and I wish you all the best for your future endeavours. Do great in life and know that I am rooting for you wherever you are and if life ever beats you down and you need someone to talk to, you know what to do.

In Excelsis!

PRESIDENT, ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BAPTIST COLLEGE KOHIMA

Dear Graduating Class,

As you step beyond the familiar walls of our college and into the vast horizon of opportunities, I extend my heartfelt congratulations on behalf of the Alumni Association. Your journey ahead is an open sky, and now is the time to spread your wings and soar.

“Soar” is more than just a theme—it is a call to rise above challenges, to embrace growth, and to pursue excellence with passion and integrity. The world beyond the campus is filled with uncertainties, but it is also a space for boundless possibilities. Carry with you the lessons, friendships, and values you have gained, and let them be the wind beneath your wings.

As you step into the world, may you continue to dream boldly, pursue your passions, and remain grounded in the values that have shaped you. And know that the Alumni Association will always be a home of encouragement, connection, and support.

Believe in your potential, embrace the unknown, and never stop striving for excellence. The sky is not the limit — it’s just the beginning.

Fly high, dream big, and make a difference!

OUTGOING BCF PRESIDENT, KOHIMA

As I reflect on my journey at Baptist College, I am filled with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation. When I first joined the institution, I anticipated a typical college experience, just another chapter in my life. However, my time here has far exceeded my initial expectations. I have had the privilege of learning from inspiring lecturers who went above and beyond to provide quality teaching and guidance, as well as from the many incredible people I've met along the way. This institution has not only fostered my academic growth but also led to personal transformation.

I express my sincere gratitude to the faculty for your unwavering dedication and crucial support. Your commitment to providing quality education has not only shaped our academic journey but also inspired us to pursue excellence. Similarly, the hard work and support of the non-teaching staff behind the scenes have created a smooth and conducive environment for us to thrive. We are truly fortunate to have had such dedicated mentors and a supportive team throughout our time here.

Throughout my journey in Baptist College, my involvement in Baptist College Fellowship has been an immeasurable blessing. I'm particularly thankful to our Chaplain, Sir Tamreimung Chüsi (Master of BBQ and Enthusiastic Rider), for welcoming me into the fellowship and allowing me to work alongside him in his ministry. Thank you, Sir, for your constant encouragement and guidance which have helped shape me into a better version of myself. Despite my many weaknesses, you have been a true mentor and have helped me grow in both faith and service.

The fellowship has been a community where I've felt a strong sense of connection and belonging. It has provided a supportive environment where we've shared our experiences, challenges, and triumphs, while nurturing one another's spiritual journeys. I am truly thankful and deeply blessed, having made many memories and been uplifted by such remarkable individuals.

To my graduating batchmates, thank you all for the wonderful memories and the strong bonds we've created. Congratulations to each one of you on reaching this incredible milestone! As we move forward, let us remember the lessons we've learned, the friendships we've made, and the strength we've gained. Stay true to your purpose, pursue your dreams with passion, and continue to shine in everything you do.

As I approach the end of this journey, I encourage each of you to be a light wherever you go. Embrace every opportunity, face challenges head-on, and never forget the power of perseverance.

The best is yet to come!

IN EXCELSIS!

OUTGOING BCF PRESIDENT, SECHÜ CAMPUS

When I first joined Baptist College, I never thought I would become a part of the BCF family. However, our Chaplain, Sir Tamreimung Chüsi, warmly welcomed me and encouraged me to be a part of this fellowship as Vice President. Little did I know that this journey would lead me to serve as President later. Looking back, I see this not just as an opportunity but as a beautiful blessing that shaped me in ways I never expected.

Being a part of BCF was more than just a role—it was a calling. It allowed me to grow spiritually, deepen my faith, and experience the love of God in a more personal way. Through organizing prayer meetings, fellowships, and events, I learned the true essence of servant leadership, leading not with authority but with humility and love. Each meeting, worship session, and discussion was a reminder that leadership is not about being perfect but about being faithful.

I am truly grateful to our Chaplain, and every member of BCF who supported and encouraged me throughout this journey. Your faith, dedication, and kindness made my experience as President even more meaningful.

Youth life is not easy. We all struggle, we all have our silent battles, and sometimes, the weight of expectations and uncertainties can feel unbearable. But if there's one thing I've learned through this journey, it is this—our true courage comes from God. When we feel lost, He is our guide. When we feel weak, He is our strength. No matter how broken we may feel, His love remains our greatest comfort.

If you ever feel like giving up, remember that you are not alone. God is always with you, and through Him, we find the strength to keep moving forward. The world may not always understand our struggles, but in Christ, we have a hope that never fades. As I step away from this role, my prayer is that BCF continues to be a place where students can find faith in the midst of struggles, strength in the midst of weakness, and a family that reminds them they are never alone.

OUTGOING STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Dear Baptist College Family,

As I write this, I am overwhelmed with gratitude and humility. Being the second female president of our esteemed college has been an experience beyond words—a journey of growth, learning, and endless memories. Looking back, I realize how much this place has shaped me, and I couldn't be more thankful for every single moment.

I still remember my first day here—wandering around campus, lost and alone, searching for my allotted room. Little did I know that this very place, which once felt so unfamiliar, would soon become my second home. From nervously stepping in as a fresher to winning the Miss Fresher title, from stepping into the Student Council as the ANCSU Representative to finally serving as President—it has been an incredible ride. And none of it would have been possible without the support, love, and encouragement of the people around me.

To my amazing Council Members, thank you for your patience, dedication, and unwavering support. Even when I fell short, you stood by me, working tirelessly for our college. The long nights in the office, the moments of exhaustion, the victories we celebrated together—those are memories I will cherish forever. Your hard work and passion will take you far, and I have no doubt that each of you will achieve great things.

To the Convenor and Co-Convenors, your guidance has been invaluable. You mentored us, encouraged us, and stood behind us every step of the way. There aren't enough words to express my gratitude, but I truly believe that the kindness and wisdom you've shared with us will come back to you in the most beautiful ways.

To our beloved teachers, thank you for your patience, dedication, and belief in us—not just as students but as individuals with dreams and potential. You have been more than educators; you have been mentors, shaping us with your wisdom and kindness. We are forever grateful for your sacrifices and the lessons you've instilled in us.

And to my dearest Chaplain, Sir Momo—you have been more than a Chaplain to me. A mentor, a father figure, a brother, and a best friend. In my hardest moments, when I felt lost or uncertain, you reminded me of my strength and guided me with your wisdom and kindness. I cannot thank you enough for being there, for lifting me up, and for believing in me. You hold a special place in my heart, always.

Finally, to my fellow students, never forget that Baptist College is a College of Opportunities. Don't wait for chances to come to you; go out there and create them. Take risks, embrace challenges, and make the most of every moment.

As I move forward to the next chapter of my life, I carry with me the friendships, the lessons, and the unforgettable memories made here. This college has given me so much, and for that, I will always be grateful.

Thank you, Baptist College, for everything.

"True friends are never apart, may be in distance but never in heart"

As I sit down to pen this farewell message, my heart is overwhelmed with emotions – sadness, gratitude and nostalgia. But one thing remain constant; the unbreakable bond we've shared as batchmates.

To my incredible batchmates, I don't even know where to begin. You all have filled my short CR'S journey with love and made it memorable. As I wave goodbye to my beloved Baptist College, Kohima, I'm filled with a sense of loss but also with a deep gratitude for the experience we've shared. Our efforts and corporations have brought us this far. Thank you for the memories, the laughter and tears, those silly jokes turning to serious conversation and those joyous College events, and from spontaneous adventures to quiet moments of introspection we have been through it all together. I will miss our adventures, the laughter and quiet moments. Most of all, I will miss the sense of belongingness we shared.

My time as CR has come to the edge but not the friendship bond we've created. As we embark on new journeys, remember to embrace every opportunity with excitement, my dear friends and stay in touch wherever life takes us.

In excelsis, Baptist College, Kohima! A place that will forever hold a piece of our hearts.

"Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together".

To my amazing batchmates, you've made my journey as CR unforgettable. Thank you for the memories.

As I bid Adieu to our beloved, "Baptist College, Kohima", I'm filled with emotions. But one thing remains constant - the bond we've shared. From late-night study sessions to crazy college festivals, from laughter to tears, we've been through it all together. And through thick and thin, we've become more than just batchmates.

I'm going to miss our silly jokes, our deep conversations, and our spontaneous adventures.

But most of all I'm going to miss the sense of belonging we shared. As we part ways, remember, "The road goes ever on and on, and with each step, a new journey begins".

My time as CR may end, but our bond will remain unbroken. Cheers to lifelong friendships!

Keep shining, and stay in touch.

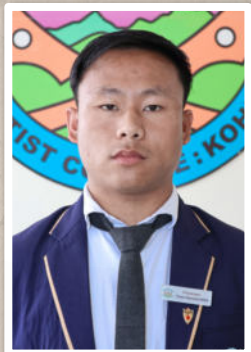

In excelsis! Long live Baptist College.

Being the CR for this class has been an absolute privilege, but more than that, it's been amazing to be part of this crazy, wonderful group. We've all seen each other grow, filled with reminders, deadlines and sometimes pure chaos and unexpected moment—but you guys also amaze me with how you always somehow pulled it all off, but honestly that's what made it special. Now we're so close to closing this chapter. More than that, thanks for being such a fun, messy and incredible bunch of souls (as your CR and as your friend). Cheers to all of us and to the journey ahead!

I just want to say a huge thank you to everyone—our amazing professors, my incredible classmates, and the entire department. It's been an unforgettable journey, filled with lessons, challenges, and so many moments of growth. I'm truly grateful for the trust and support you all have given me. This role wasn't just about responsibility; it was about teamwork, friendships, and making a difference together. I couldn't have done it without each and every one of you dear mates. Here's to the memories we've made and the history together.

"Class Cancelled" – The Best Notification Ever Let's be real, nothing united us more than the joy of a canceled lecture. The group chat celebrations were legendary!

"Last-Minute Submissions" – History repeated itself every semester—assignments started at 11:58 PM, submitted at 11:59 PM.

"The CR Struggle" – When we announce an important update, the group chat stays silent like a haunted house... but if someone drops a meme, suddenly everyone is online. Fighting with memes

*"Exam Panic Mode" – That moment when we all swore we'd study early but ended up cramming together the night before—true teamwork at its finest! 'Exam slogan' *Big Snake in town

"Group assignment presentation" – If you survived a group assignment without stress, were you even in university? Shoutout to that one person who actually did all the work!

"Professor's 'One More Thing' – That Lasts 30 Minutes" We all knew when a lecture should have ended, but history had other plans... Our fav Ma'am class she will start with I'll take only for few minutes but ended up take 1 hour and Jesse shouting ma'am time up.. those will now remain History..

"Foodie Gang in Every Lecture" – Special mention to the ones who always had snacks, chajana and water somehow turned every class into a picnic.

"That One Overachiever vs. The Rest of Us" – The real MVPs are the ones who asked, "Sir, is there any extra credit?" while we all gave them the side-eye of betrayal.

Special mention to last benchers boys for turning our class into concert hall with Mixed unacceptable melodies..

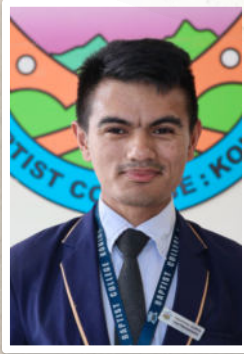

"Graduation = The Ultimate Heist"

We came, we saw, we barely survived—but we made it! Time to walk away like heroes in an action movie. Lastly, it's been a wild ride, full of history, mystery, and memes.

Thank you for the memories, the madness, and the moments that made this journey so much memorable.

Thank you all.

"All our dreams can come true, if we have courage to pursue them".

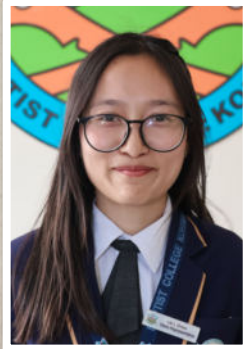

As the three years of college come to an end. I am reminded that there is a time for everything. A time to come together and a time to say goodbye. Goodbye's are difficult indeed, but I am glad to have made wonderful friends, who eventually became more like family.

We will all be stepping into a new chapter of our life, some may go for further studies, some may prepare for competitive exams and some of us may start working, I pray and hope that we will all do our best and achieve our goals.

I would also like to thank all the teachers who guided and moulded us into what we are today.

Dear fellow graduates,

As we close this chapter and embark on new journeys, I want to take a moment to express my heartfelt gratitude to each and every one of you. Thank you for entrusting me with the privilege of serving as your class representative. It's been an honor to work alongside such a talented, driven, and compassionate group of individuals.

I'm grateful for the laughter, memories, and moments we've shared. From our first days on campus to our final farewell, we've grown together. Your friendship, support, and camaraderie have made our time together truly unforgettable. Whether participating in extracurricular activities, or just hanging out, every moment has been precious.

As we go our separate ways, I wish you all the very best. Thank you again for an incredible journey! I'll always treasure the memories we've made together.

If I could sum up my journey as the Class Representative of the Sociology Department in a few words, it would be this: beautifully chaotic and perfectly unforgettable.

Being chosen twice to serve such an amazing set of students for four whole semesters (two full years!) is a blessing I'll never forget. From trying to convince friends to volunteer (which often felt like bribing with snacks or emotional blackmail), to managing endless group chats that always turned into meme zones — I've done it all with love and a lot of learning.

Some days were all about deadlines and discipline. Some were just dancing through laughter, chai breaks, and class photos. And then there were those "CR please send this!" moments at 11:59 PM — how could I ever forget? But through every notice shared, every voice raised (nicely!), every silent stress behind organizing — I became not just a better representative, but a better me. Studying sociology helped me understand people; being your CR helped me connect with them deeply.

I'll always be grateful for the trust you placed in me. Thank you for walking with me, sometimes running, and sometimes dragging me (emotionally) through this journey. It wasn't always easy — but it was always worth it.

And a heartfelt thank you to our amazing lecturers - Dr. Videkhono Yhokha, Miss Veshetsülu Rüho, Sir Kevizhalhou Medom and Sir Vincent Kent for not only guiding us through books and theories, but for supporting us with patience, understanding, and belief. Your presence in our academic journey made all the difference.

"Friendship isn't about who you've known the longest, but about who walked into your life and never left your side"
My college days were some of the most memorable and transformative years of my life. From the very first day, I was filled with a mix of excitement and nervousness, stepping into a world of new opportunities and challenges. The friendships I formed and the endless discussions about life and dreams made these years truly special. Every day brought something new—engaging lectures, extracurricular activities, and moments of laughter that strengthened my bond with classmates. College was not just about academics. It was a journey of self-discovery and growth, shaping me into the person I am today.

Looking back, my time in college and my role as a class representative were invaluable in shaping my character. I learned to manage responsibilities, build relationships, and handle both success and failure with grace. The challenges I faced made me stronger, and the experiences I gained continue to guide me in different aspects of life. College was not just about getting a degree; it was about learning, growing, and becoming a better version of myself. I am beyond grateful for the good environment be it the nature, the good friendly lecturers and the best was my friends. I'd say college memories are the best and unforgettable ones indeed it is.

As our three year journey ends, the sad wind blows, carrying our memories with it. The classrooms, the hallways, the laughter we never thought we would have to leave so soon. No one told us how hard it would be to say goodbye. The friends, the moments we shared will become memories, and life will never be the same again. It hurts to leave, but time will not wait for us. Even as we move forward, a part of us will always stay here in the friendships, the lessons, and the memories we will never forget.

Fly high mates. Hoping to meet each other again on a fine day.

Message TO YOUR future self

I hope you are still standing strong, disciplined and honoring the value that shaped you. Stay sharp, stay tough and keeping pushing forward. Anish Kumar Prasad

Be proud of yourself, celebrate your successes and learn from your mistake. Keep following your heart pursuing your passion and enjoying the journey. You got this. David Purty

Life may not always go as planned but remember to stay resilient and endeavour towards your ambitions as you have the potential and never lose sight of your purpose. Eloni Kaje

I hope you can be the manifestation of my effort today. Be the person who lives life to the fullest with less regrets. Holise Sangtam

Hold onto that spark of curiosity and passion, as you navigate the world beyond these walls. Wishing you could go back in time to tell me everything is going to be more than alright .remember the excitement of these golden college days which has passed away unknowingly like a flowing water. I hope you are fighting your dark old days to get through. Don't lose sight of your dream even when the path gets tough. Keep learning, keep growing and most importantly keep being you. Ikieng

Remember the struggles from the past, remember the wisdoms from your families and friends, and keep a strong mind. Imlisunep Tzudir

Trust the process, even when it does not make sense. Krishna Thapa

I hope you are living your dream life and still in contact with your friends. Limatemjen Tzudir

Earn a name for yourself. Mangyangchuba

Hardwork pays off. M.D.Zaheer-Ul-Alam

I hope you've achieved all your dreams and are living a life of luxury and success. I hope you've become rich enough to settle in BARCELONA. Menuozonuo Chase

Be yourself even when everyone is trying to make you into somebody. No matter what, keep your head up, stick your chest out and handle it. Niloto K. Zhimo

Believe in yourself and chase your dreams. Be kind to yourself and keep learning and growing. You are stronger than you think. Keep shining. Nourhevinuo Dahou

You must do the thing you think you cannot do. Pezavinuo Viyie

Remember to be kind to yourself. Life is a marathon, not a sprint, and it's ok to take a break. You've made it this far through resilience and strength, so trust your ability to overcome whatever lies ahead. As you move on forward, life is a journey of continuous growth, and you have the power to sculpt it into a masterpiece. Be kind towards everyone, celebrate your victories and learn from your mistakes. Above all, remember that you are enough just as you are. Your worth is not determined by external validation but by the love and authenticity you bring into the world. Keep dreaming, and know that the best is yet to come. With Love, Pooja Saha

Gain your strength, be respectful, stay strong, do what you do and keep going. Pinky Kumari

Never give up on what you have dream on becoming. Keep working hard until you reach your goals. Supon Lam

I hope you've grown into the person you always dreamed of becoming. Recall the evening when you vowed to become a woman of honour self-sufficiency, and grace. Right now I'm writing this as a college student filled with hopes and the challenges for what's ahead. Don't forget why you started this journey and the passion that kept you going. Stay curious stay strong and never stop growing. And no matter which path you choose remember to thank god and seek his guidance. T. Shokhumla

Do something today that your future self will thank you for. Tsezutho Poji

No matter what battles you've faced on the field or in life, I trust you have remained focused on the mission. Stay sharp, stay tough and keep pushing forward. Vinit Mech

My College experience

THE SAME WITHOUT...

My two friends, Vinit Mech and M.D.Zaheer. Anish Kumar Prasad

D.C.H.Q members and mates. David Purty

My lectures who have provided me with so much of value and knowledge and also my crazy classmates whom I consider as a rare treasure and a source of joy cheers to the good times. Eloni Kaje

My amazing friends who became like family to me. Holise Sangtam

College days passed like a single day with a lot of good memories which will be impossible without my friends and classmates. Also, it will not be a purposeful experience without the presence of my beloved teachers. Ikieng

My friends with whom I've made memories with and the wisdoms and life lessons from the lectures. Imlisunep Tzudir

My squad – Amu, Lima, David, Chuba, Edwin (snake). Krishna Thapa

My friends and the wonderful experience I've gained in the council. Limatemjen Tzudir

Bros and mates. Mangyangchuba

Vinit Mech, Anish Kumar Prasad (my two friends).

M.D.Zaheer-Ul-Alam

Completing my assignments only a few minutes before submitting. Menuozonuo Chase

My stupid, harami friends. Niloto K. Zhimo

My friends and professors. The laughter, memories and the conversation that we share in the class and my mentors (professors) who guided and inspired me to reach my full potential. College life is one of the most remarkable times of my life, unlike school life. College life taught me to be independent, exposed me to new experiences and challenges.

Nourhevinuo Dahou

My college experience has been truly unforgettable and I owe it all to the guidance and support of my lectures and chaplain. Your wisdom, mentorship and encouragement have been instrumental in shaping my academic and personal life which will stay with me always. To my dear classmates, I'll never forget the laughter, inside jokes and the memories we've shared. You've made my college journey so much more enjoyable. Thank you for being an amazing part of my life. I'm also grateful for the friends I've made from other departments. You've enriched my college experience in ways I never thought possible. Sharing stories, experience and laughter with you has been an absolute pleasure. And to those people I've seen around campus but never had a chance to talk to, I'm happy to have crossed paths with you. You're all part of the fabric that makes our college community so special. Thank you to everyone who's made my college experience so unforgettable. This has been the best chapter of my life. Pezavinuo Viyie

My brother. He played a significant role in shaping my college experience, his support, as a mentorship-as a upper class man my brother offered valuable advice and guidance on everything from course selection to career choices. Secondly my friends, I'll never forget the laughter, jokes and countless memories we've shared together to spontaneous road trips to laughter – filled nights in the dorm and also the supportive network that helped me in navigate the up's and down's of my college life. College experience would not have been the same without professor. Their guidance, mentorship and enthusiasm for teaching made a significant impact on the academic journey.

Pooja Saha

My friends. Pinky Kumari

My teachers, classmates, SC colleges and the environment provided by our college. Supon Lam

My brother. He played a significant role in shaping my college experience. I can't imagine my college experience without my brother's support having my brother by my side made my college years unforgettable. T. Shokhumla

My bros. Tsezutho Poji

My friends - Anish and Zaheer. Vinit Mech

Never attended devotional services. David Purty

Once when there was uniform checking, I escaped paying fine by saying that I kept my blazer in my bag when the truth was that I did not even bring it to college that day.

Eloni Kaje

While my leave application after every vacation always mentioned 'transportation issues', the real reason was simple - I just love village life a little too much to rush back after vacations. Holise Sangtam

I secretly have a crush on one of my friend within my friends circle in college. Ikieng

I spread a rumour about my friends flirting with his crush. Imlisunep Tzudir

Got caught for bunking classes and lied to the HoD, guess what he bought it. Krishna Thapa

I've bought only two textbooks in my whole college life. Also, I've never borrowed books from the library. Limatemjen Tzudir

Never attended devotional. Mangyangchuba

Took my friends phone, kept it in someone else's bag and never told her the it was me who took it. Menuozonuo Chase

Never brought a textbook to the college.

Niloto K. Zhimo

One day my phone balance ran out, and I desperately needed to stay connected so I opened my phone wifi, and intentionally connected to someone else's network. As I attended my class, I received lots of message on my phone which caught my attention, to my surprise I discovered that I was using someone's hotspot, but I had no idea who it was and after some few minutes one of my friends mention that someone in our class was using her hotspot.

My heart sank as I understood that I had been using her network without her permission. Despite feeling guilty I remained silent choosing not to reveal my involvement.

Nourhevinuo Dahou

During a uniform checking day ,I found myself in a bit of a pickle-I wasn't wearing the proper uniform but thinking on my feet ,I borrowed my friends scarf to cover up and manage to sneak past sir undetected. Pezavinuo Viyie

Never attended devotional services. Pooja Saha

We would bunk our class because of laziness but in our application for leave we would give serious reasons. Supon Lam

most likely

Steal someone's tiffin. Limatemjen

Be late to a deadline. Menuo

Win an award for most creative excuses. Eloni (aka Elon Musk)

Fall asleep anywhere, anytime. Niloto

Turn a casual conversation into a debate. Shokumla (aka TIGER)

Adopt a hundred cat's. Pezavinuo

Laugh at the worst possible moment. Supon

Wake up late and blame traffic. Manyangchuba

Cancel plans at last minutes. Pooja

Lose their phone five times a day. Krishna

Become a social media influencer. Nourhe

Laugh at jokes they don't understand. Ikieng

Become a gay couple. Holise and Sunep

Create their own schedule. Anish, Zaheer, Vinit

Get blown away by wind. David

Become shikari shambu. Edwin

Get lost in their own neighbourhood. Pinky

Journey With My Classmates: The Small but Mighty Classroom

As I look on my journey together with my mates, I am filled with joy. Our small classroom may have been tiny but it was packed with a giant dose of unity, humour and love. We weren't always the most obedient students. There were times when we'd ditch our assignments, and bunk class, united in mischief and face the music together the next day, often in the form of punishment in our Accounts period. We would hide each other's phone and turned UNO into a competitive sports. Boys would treat each other to samosa while girls share homemade tiffins, spreading love and laughter. There small acts of kindness were our love language. I am so grateful for the bond we have formed. We may never be in the same classroom again but I hope the memories and love we shared will stay with us always.

Pezavinuo Viyie

The Only Constant: Yourself

Life is a journey filled with fleeting connections. People come and go – friends drift apart, relationships end and sometimes even familial disputes build distance. In the end, the only person who stays with you, understands you and supports you is yourself. Human relationship is fluid. People enter our lives for various reasons. Some stay for a short while, some for longer but no one stays permanently. When you rely heavily on someone, you are more likely to be disappointed by them. At the end, the most important relationship you will ever have is the one with yourself. The more you strengthen your inner base, the less dependent you become on external validation or support. Appreciate relationships while they last, but don't be shattered when they end. Yes, everyone is a stranger at first and eventually everyone leaves. But this is not a tragedy – it is a reminder to cherish the present, to love without attachment and most importantly, to nurture the one relationship that lasts forever: the one with yourself.

Shokhumla Yimchunger

Dear teachers,
I may not always say it but I mean it when I say thank you for all the extra efforts you give to help us grow and all the challenges you encourage us to face to help us become who we are. You are not only our teachers but our friends and mentor, all rolled into one person. We will always be grateful for your enthusiasm and knowledge on the subject and how you make the classes enjoyable and rewarding. I am grateful for the opportunity to learn from you.

With regards,
Pooja Saha

The Mountains are Calling

The mountains call in voice deep
Through misty dawns and shadow steep.
Their echoes drift upon the breeze.
A song of love in rustling trees.

They whisper soft, like your embrace
A warmth that time cannot erase.
Each step I take upon this land,
Feels lighter with your guiding hand.

The rivers carve, the valley sigh,
Beneath the vast and endless sky.
Yet none so wild, nor deep, not true,
As this sweet love I found in you.

So let us climb where spirit rise,
With love alight in searching eyes.
The mountains call – we must obey,
And find ourselves along the way.

Krishna Thapa

The Last Goodbye

The sun still shines, the rivers flow,
Though parting comes, love still will grow.
A final touch, a fleeting sigh,
Yet hearts don't break – they learn to fly.

The laughter lingers in the air,
Soft whispers, still everywhere.
No road is lost, no love can fade
It shines in all the dreams we have made

So walk ahead, don't turn around
Our love is in the sky, the ground.
Though hands let go, though voices part
You will always live within my heart

And though we stand on separate shores,
Love finds its way, forever yours.

Message from the HoD

Dear Graduates of 2025,

My warmest congratulations on completion of 3 years at Baptist College! It sure has been a roller coaster ride filled with excitement and perhaps a little frustration at times as you navigated through academic challenges and related affairs. I believe it has taught you patience and instilled in you the realisation that nothing is achievable without hardwork and perseverance. You have grown much, from timid newcomers to confident mature individuals equipped and ready to venture out into a world where making the right choices will determine your future happiness.

It has been an honour mentoring you all. May you carry with you the values imparted in line with the vision and mission of BCK and its motto "In Excelsis." May you never fail to pursue the path of integrity. Take with you the memories you have built. Build your future on the foundation laid at BCK. And in the twists and turns of life, whenever you need to accomodate changes, may it be only for the better.

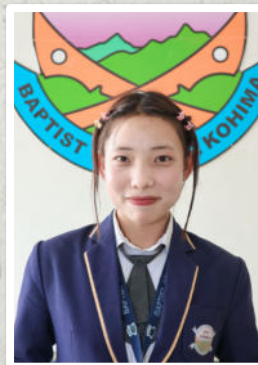

I wish you great success and happiness!

Dr. Tsenbeni

Message TO YOUR future self

May you always chase wisdom with the same curiosity you had during your College days.
Ani

Take risks and enjoy the ride. Arunla

Be gentle to yourself. You will have enough time to do everything that you love. Enjoy it, all of it. Atoli

I hope you are still happy and Menoo, I hope we are still not making poor life choices together. Changlangmai

I hope you are doing better, even more so now. Be good and do things that brings you joy. May God keep you safe and I hope he cares for what you hold dear. Fighting.
Changsonla

Stay true to yourself and follow your heart. Be kind and shine your light. Believe in yourself and your abilities. Chürhe

Whatever the pursuit, I hope you're living your life as honestly and happily as possible. You are deserving of happiness and success. Keep shining, keep working and keep being the wonderful person you are meant to be. Ekali

Keep chasing your dreams but don't forget to enjoy the journey. Stay curious, stay kind and never stop learning. Gened

Stay curious, keep shining, keep growing and never forget where you came from. Helovini

Keep pushing even when it gets tough. Remember to breath, relax and enjoy the journey. Life is precious. Huqheli

May you always carry grace in your heart and lead with kindness. Keneingunuo

Keep growing, be kind and strong, embrace changes, cherish moments and life, trust yourself, let go, and always keep moving forward. Kevisilie

I'm writing to you from a place of hopeful uncertainty, wondering what chapters your life has unfolded. Did you find the courage to chase those wild, improbable dreams we whispered about, or did you discover new, equally vibrant passions along the way? I hope you've learned to navigate the inevitable storms, finding strength in vulnerability and wisdom in the aftermath. Remember the people who fill our hearts with warmth; have you nurtured those connections, allowing them to blossom and deepen? Did you learn to forgive the past's stumbles, both yours and others', embracing the freedom that comes with letting go? I hope you've cultivated a sense of inner peace, finding contentment in the present while still reaching for the stars. And most importantly, I hope you've remained true to the essence of who we are, evolving with grace, kindness, and an unwavering spirit of curiosity. Khrielhoutuo

Never forget where you started but always push to become the best version of yourself. Keep learning, growing and evolving. Khrutavolu

In the tapestry of time, may your threads of hope, love and joy forever shine. Khwensolo

Keep pushing forward even if the path ahead is difficult and stay true to yourself because you are unique and special. Kushen

I hope you have found the kind of peace that doesn't waver and success that fulfils. If life has tested you, I trust you've risen stronger. You are meant for more and worthy of every beautiful thing life has to offer. Leing

Be caring, loving and smart. Be careful to love, learn to trust yourself more and that you are never alone but you have God, family and friends. Lezo-o

Make the little girl you used to be, proud of the woman you are today. Lighano

I know the journey have not been easy, and you have faced many challenges along the way. But I hope those challenges only made you Wiser. As you look back on the past years, I hope you're proud of yourself and who you've become. Limeka

As you navigate the ups and downs of life, hold on to the values that have shaped you: kindness, empathy, resilience and determination. Keep pushing boundaries, exploring new horizons and chasing your dreams. Linika

Are you 6ft yet? Lironthung

Stay curious and keep learning. Dream big and take risks. Embrace the journey ahead. Lithunglo

I hope you have made progress on all the goals you set. Better to admit you walked through the wrong door than spend your life in the wrong room. Longtila

I hope you've found your passion and are pursuing your dreams. Keep going, even when it gets tough! And yes Chang, that's what besties are for. Mengunuo

Never stop learning, growing and stay true to yourself. Remember to appreciate the little things and to cherish the moments. Meripeni

Keep going. No matter what happens, trust yourself, adapt, and keep moving forward. You've come this far—there's so much more ahead. Mharoni

Stay fearless, unapologetic, and unstoppable. Mhonroni

I hope you've become the person you once dreamed of. Remember the lessons, cherish the memories, and never stop growing. Mumtaj

It's not always easy being the humorous one but let's be real... you gotta stand out since you height has already given up on you. Lol. Ngaubana

Take a moment to reflect on how far you've come. You've worked hard to get here and I'm proud of you, always stay true to your values, even when challenges arise. No matter what always keep learning, growing and be kind to yourself. Nilika I Sumi

I want to remind you to stay true to yourself, to keep pushing forward even when the road ahead seems uncertain. Remember to be kind to yourself and take care of your physical and mental health. Nilika Assumi

Life was never meant to be easy. But you see, you have grown so much and I am proud of you for not giving up. Remember to slow down and appreciate the little details. Be kind to yourself and continue to live your

we exist in moments,

everything,

nothing more

in time

life rooted in faith as you were taught. Nozenü Kikhi

Hey, I hope you've shaken off that laziness by now. Congrats on making it this far! Have you finally bought our dream car, or are we still dreaming? On a serious note, try to be more independent and avoid asking our parents for money for every little thing. Orenvungo

Have you finally graduated from college? Present me is filled with doubts constantly wondering if that milestone has been reached. Phengna

Always remember to trust your instincts and believe in yourself no matter where life takes you. You got this! Phenlongnyei

The best is yet to come. Pongchoi

I hope you can be the manifestation of my efforts today. Rachel

I hope you're still chasing purpose and wisdom—but let's be real. May Love and Light also help you find your keys and sanity. Rhonbeni

Hi me 3/4 years from now? Im still taking things passively, I hope you're taking things seriously and passively, at the same time, balancing it. It'll be fine, keep going at your own pace. Rohan

Remember to be proud of yourself. You worked hard, persevered through challenges and grown into a strong and capable individual. Rosely

No matter how hard thing may seem, keep going. Life is full of ups and downs but it's the people who persist through that achieve happiness. There may be times when you feel like giving up but don't let those moments defeat you. Keep pushing forward and never forget why you started on this journey in the first place. Believe in yourself and your abilities. Rovino

I hope you've stayed true to the commitment to further your studies. Remember the excitement you felt when you first decided to pursue this path and how much you wanted to grow and learn. No matter how challenging it gets, keep pushing forward and don't give up. Trust in your abilities and know that the effort will be worth it. You've got this!" Shiamo

Even miracles take a little time. Telalo-u

One day you will look back at this moment and wish you could tell your past self that it will all be okay. Thejavikho

I hope I carried the same sense of gratitude I felt today. May every experience serve as a timeless reminder to always uphold your values. Thsarila

Keep pushing forward. Never forget how far you have come and how far you have to go. Stay curious, stay kind and never stop chasing your goals. Look back with pride, look forward with excitement. The best is yet to come. Enjoy the journey, not just the destination. Thunolü

I hope you have found what you've always desired, and may it bring you endless joy. Tolito

No matter what the outcome is, smile as you always do. Remember I like to face situations with a smile. Tonoka

Follow your bliss. Tsinuo

no matter where life takes you never forget the passion and dreams that you had. Keep growing, keep learning and always believe in yourself. Tsoinyu

May you always seek wisdom and purpose, and may kindness and clarity light your way. Velu

I hope you're proud of how far you've come. Keep loving yourself, being yourself, and giving yourself credit for everything you've overcome—especially the challenges you once thought you couldn't. Venezolü

I hope you are still learning something new everyday. The world is always changing, and I hope you've kept up, adapting and stayed curious. Keep helping, keep listening and keep growing... Fighting!!! Vilekhonuo

May you always chase wisdom, embrace growth, and never lose the spark of curiosity. Vilenuo

You carried more than anyone knew. I hope you are resting, even while rising. Vinika

Don't compare your journey to someone else's but focus on your own path and celebrate your unique successes. Vizokholie

Life isn't easy, but I hope you're taking time to celebrate your strengths and accomplishments. Be proud of the progress you've made, no matter how small it may seem. Especially acknowledge the quiet victories that only you know about. You've got this! Vipeni

My College experience

WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN THE SAME WITHOUT ...

Writing 10 page paper in one night and telling myself the biggest lie "I will start tomorrow." Ani Kemp

My awesome friends. Arunla A

The support and shared experiences that comes with friendships. Atoli Assumi

Menoo will know. Changlangmai

Without skipping classes and directly sleeping with my uniform on my bed. Changsonla Chang

Amazing friends who became more like family. Chürhe Joshu

The all nighters fueled by instant ramen and extreme desperation during the hectic exam sessions. Plus I learnt some impressive caffeine tolerance skills that I will use forever. Ekali Achumi

The late night study sessions, unexpected friendships and moments of self discovery. Gened

Friends and classmates who made every moment unforgettable. Helovini

BCF. A bond that time won't erase, a memory that forever holds a sacred space and my unforgettable friends AKNM. Huqheli

The friendships I have created along the way. Keneingunuo

*The series of adventures, camps, late night conversations disguised as study sessions and somehow, actual lifelong friendship emerged from the chaos. Kevisilie

*The irreplaceable network of friends, mentors and unexpected moments that shaped my growth. Khrielhoutuo

*The amazing friends, the challenges that taught me resilience and the unforgettable moments that shaped who I am. Khrutavolu

*Laughter, lessons, and lifelong friendships woven into the fabric of college memories. Khwensolo

*My classmates and friends who became my partners in crime and lecturers who supported me to achieve my goal and dreams. Kushen

*My two bodyguards who always made me sit in the middle like a tiny bookmark between two giant novels. Every day was pure chaos, nonstop gossip, ruthless roasts and turning the class into a place where Shakespeare would weep with frustration from hearing Macbeth and Dr. Faustus used as examples for the hundredth time. Leing

*My roommates. They were my support system, my partners in crime and my lifelong friends to whom I will forever be grateful. Lezo-o

*The unwavering support of my friends, their infectious enthusiasm and the unbreakable bond we've forged. Lighano

*Aunt's fried rice "with soup" 10/10. Limeka

*A time of self discovery, growth and exploration that prepared me for the next chapter of my life, challenges and friendship that I'll always treasure. Linika

*My college experience was ordinary. Lironthung

*My friends (my favourite animals). They provided support, laughter and countless memories, making every moment worthwhile. Lithunglo

*Forcing her (Changlangmai) to attend classes even though she's sick. Obviously not for attendance but to see someone. Mengunuo

The incredible & amazing friendships I formed (AKNM), and I'm grateful to have had Sir Momo, who made my college life so much fun. Meripeni

Velu, Lithung, Alo, Tsinuo, Eka, Arunla, Phenlong, Lighano, Vini, Menguonuo, Rosely (Tiger), Sushi & Longti. Mharoni

My two Munchkins, Bana & Rhon #The Three Musketeers?! Mhonroni

My amazing friends, the late night study sessions, endless laughter, and the professors who inspired me to do better. Mumtaj

My procrastination partners! They have the skin of a snake but a heart of gold, endless debates and one collective bad idea has always been easier for us to follow!! Thank you for adding colours to my college days. Ngaubana

The amazing people I've met along the way. From friends who became family to professors who challenged me and inspired me. Every connection has shaped my journey. The cramming study session, the impromptu adventures and the moment of self-discovery have made these years unforgettable. Nilika I. Sumi

My friends, the laughter, the secrets we shared and especially the gossips LoL. Nilika Assumi

My friends, my kaleidoscope of colours : Intricate yet Beautiful (AKMN) . And the Baptist College Fellowship for shaping the cornerstone of my spiritual and mental growth. The memories created are experiences that I will recount throughout my lifetime. Nozenü

College was an emotional rollercoaster, but it was worth every moment. I discovered my voice, my passion, and learned to stand up for myself. It was a transformative experience that shaped me into the person I am today. Orenvungo

The silence—no friendships, no unforgettable moments, just time passing. Phengna

My amazing buddies, who brought love , laughter and lifelong memories into my life. Pongchoi

My friends, who turned campus life into unforgettable memories and made every moment count. Phenlongnyi

College life exposes me to new experience and things which I was not familiar with but yet i consider it one of the most memorable year. Rachel

College without my friends? That would've been like watching a silent movie... with no subtitles. They turned every lecture into a blooper reel worth remembering. Rhonbeni

My college experience wouldn't have been the same without 'me', if I had pretended and hid between the masses I wouldn't be the me I am right now, im happy that I tried to break my shell. Rohan

My friends and classmates. They played a vital role in shaping my college experience, making it a richer and more memorable journey. They provided valuable social support and engaging with them in discussions, group activities and study sessions broadened my perspective. I am grateful for the memories and experiences I have shared with you all. Rovino

My friends and mates. It would not have been fun experience without my friends. So glad I'm able to experience my college days with my friends and mates. Shiamo

My Kolkata Gangs. Telalo-u

My supportive friends and the strong friendship we share. Thejavikho

It would be so boring without my coterie. With them college became like a living breathing tapestry. Thsarila

My wonderful mate with whom we hardly talk and my beautiful two monkeys with whom I find peace and comfort. The best trio with the innocent one, the talkative one and the bossy one. My college experience with you guys is beyond measure and the best part of all is being with you two. Thunolü

My incredible friends—Vile, Avi, and Avini—you made college unforgettable! From casual hellos to sharing our deepest secrets, every moment with you was pure magic. Without you, even the familiar feels empty. Tolito

Without my cute ever green lecturers and the cute ladies and gentlemen being my classmates. They made me feel loved out. Tonoka

#MYKOLKATAGANG. Tsinuo

The friends and the bond we made over the years. Tsoinyu

My amazing friends and the traffic that taught me patience along the way. Venezolü

Friends who became family, the gossips and moments shared outside and inside the classroom. Vilekhonuo

A rollercoaster with no seatbelt -terrifying, thrilling and over way too fast .
Vilenuo

My college experience would not have been the same without my three idiots. (Avi, Vile and Toli) Who knows, if it weren't for them, I might've actually learned something inside the class. Instead, we perfected the 11th-hour study routine—taking risks, studying only the 'important' questions, and surviving on last-minute cramming sessions. Thanks to them, I'll never know what it's like to actually be prepared. But hey, that's what made college fun, right? Vinika

The stress and pressure of meeting deadlines and balancing coursework, which taught me valuable time management and coping skills. Vizokholie

My incredible friends I made in college - Liron, Toli, Vile, and Avini. You all brought so much joy and love into my life, reminding me that every part of me is worthy and lovable. Thank you for being my rock, my support, and my forever friends. Vipeni

More or less wandering quietly confused through the corridors and a little burst of euphoria seeing someone and then back again to the uniform grey of the day I won't probably remember. It was the best of times it was the worst of times. Baptist College:Lived it. Loved it. Wangwüng

One of my supportive teachers who guided me to success.
Wepule

The unforgettable memories, valuable lessons from mistakes and incredible people who made it all worthwhile. Y. Anti Chumden

Supportive friends who will fight and care for you like family. You don't need a huge circle of people. You just need few mad people who can stand by you at all times. Sushelu

Nodding confidently like I understood everything while silently hoping no one ask any follow up questions. Ani Kemp

I am a morning rockstar but ironically, when I have something important to do, I end waking up at 9. Atoli

I took leave for a wedding (I don't know whose wedding) because my friend Menoo said she wont be able to attend class that day (she forced me). Changlangmai

My friend and I giving names to every person we come across. Changsonla Chang

Sometimes when that professor's voice starts to sound like elevator music, my phone just decides it's the most interesting thing in the world to be there. Ekali

When my brother and I were younger, I bit off his toy tiger's tail because I got jealous and wanted it. Gened

Scolded by a teacher from another School for climbing the College fence to sneak out. Helovini

Doze off in the class but my lectures think I am totally engaged. Huqheli

I still don't know how to properly cite sources. Keneingunuo

Tore my pants while trying to demonstrate a correct squat pose. Kevisilie

If you think that I am ignoring you, that is because I am on my phone almost all the time. Khrielhoutuo

Attended all the classes but remember only the attendance call. Khrutavolu

Have learned to nod and say 'yes' while secretly having no clue what is going on. Leing

During lectures, my friends and I would often sneakily exchange tiny notes on scraps of paper, sharing giggles and causing a little chaos. Lighano

That one time I skipped Ma'am Loly's class and she was right behind me, we both locked eyes and I gave her that awkward smile. Limeka

My apology to my high school guy mate whom I beat up but instead of me he got punishment from the teacher. Linika

You might think I'm listening to the explanation, but I'm actually daydreaming. Lithunglo

Just because I was going on a wedding, my friend took a leave for a wedding as well but she did not know whose wedding it was (changlangmai). Mengunuo

I drew in my notebook instead of writing down the explanation. Meripeni

Sometimes when you think I'm writing notes, I'm actually drawing. Mharoni

Listening to music with friends during lectures. Mhonroni

Luckily, survived the whole semester without textbooks and never got caught. Mumtaj

I have to admit, I spent my college years hoping for a romantic relationships complete with cute meetings and sweet gestures . But unfortunately I didn't have any crushes or romantic experiences. A tragic victim of unrequited love... or maybe just plain bad luck. Ngaubana

Pretending that I have the text when I don't. Nilika I Sumi

When I see a pen in my classroom without an owner, I take it . The next day when the owner (my friends) come searching for it ..I tell them I don't know, but the pen had already been distributed to my siblings. Nilika Assumi

When I had to act like I understood the teacher 's explanation while I did not, no matter how much I tried (the teacher is just way out of our standard). Nozenü

Being loved by the teachers so much that your name is called out repeatedly during attendance is just different. Orenvungo

After all, I hardly understood what was taught in college. Phengna

When you finally understand the material. But it's the day before the exam. Pongchoi

My apology to that very person who got scolded...bro I was the one who knocked the window from outside:) the culprit is here. Rachel

My friends' inside jokes were my secret lecture survival guide—one smirk, one whispered joke, and not forgetting Sir :Ghunato's class, it felt like a comedy show. Rhonbeni

Recorded a video of my friend while he was taking a dump, I still have the video. Rohan

I once accidentally wore mismatched socks to College. Rovino

I got pranked by my friends during my Kolkata trip. Shiamo

I have never attended Political Science class on Thursdays. Telalo-u

My friends' silly songs were my concentration-boosting soundtrack. A hum here, a tap there, I'm in the zone! Thejavikho

Being so dumb that I hardly know some of my classmates names. Thsarila

We've got our ears wide open, ready to hear with our mind outside the class having no clue. 'Yes' is our best answer. Thunolü

My favorite cartoon is masha and the bear. Tolito

Once upon a time, during my 2nd semester, I left my class with the permission of going to a washroom, in which I never returned back. The next day I was excused but sadly I had to sing 1 hip hop song, which I did proudly. Tonoka

Tried connecting college WiFi once ...My graduation came faster than the connection. Tsinuo

During lectures my eyelids had other plans. Tsoinyu

The inside jokes we shared weren't just for fun; they were my secret survival guide, turning even the duller lectures into something memorable. Velu

Life is a mix of highs and lows, and sometimes, it's hard to balance both. Venezolü

When I was in class A, I ran away from school thinking that classes were over (short break tha) and the caretaker came chasing after me till home and took me back to school.. (P.S..I sat facing towards my classmates the whole day) Vilekhonuo

My friends inside jokes were my secret lecture - lectures were optional but decoding avini,avi n toli's inside jokes ? A daily class i never skipped. Vilenuo

One morning, the four of us confidently walked into the wrong classroom, and as usual grabbed the first bench and started taking selfies like we owned the place. We were too busy posing to notice anything strange until Sir walked in.

Turns out, he was a sociology teacher—and we don't even take sociology! But we were so sure it was our class that we told him he was in the wrong room. Our poor Sir, looking all confused, actually left. Minutes later, we realized we were the ones in the wrong. We left, blushing hard, called Sir back, and ran away out of sheer embarrassment. But hey, who cares? We listen, we don't judge... even our own mess! Vinika

Late-night gaming sessions with my squad were my stress-relief therapy. A win here, a trash-talk there, I'm relaxed! Vizokholie

I may have looked like an innocent student, sitting in the front row all year, but little did anyone know, I was secretly snacking on jaal chana with my friends under the professor's nose! And Avini's hilarious sketches of our professors always had us giggling. Vipeni

Whenever I see her (Socio Department) suddenly all the stupid love poems they forced me to learn in school begins to make sense. Wangwüng

The tale of a python

Ngaubana

Once upon a time there was a young lady who was very obedient and soft by nature. She was loved by her parents and friends very dearly. One day her friends called her to collect firewood from the forest, but she asked them to go ahead. After finishing her work she set out and met a handsome young man who told her, “you will not be able to catch up with your friends so let me cut the firewood for you” and the young girl agreed. Then he instructed her to cover her head with her basket and told her not to open her eyes. Then he transformed himself into a huge python and climbed the tree. However, she opened her eyes and when she saw the python, she ran home crying but the young man pursued her and told her that she could not run away from him. That very night her friends came and called her again for a sleepover in the morung. She refused to go out with them but after much persuasion, she agreed. Her friends promised her that they would cover every hole in the morung, leaving no peepholes. Unfortunately, they forgot to close a burrow, so while everyone was sleeping, the python slid in through the small hole and took her away. She screamed for help but everyone in the morung was hypnotised by the python. The neighbour, however, heard her and the young girl asked the neighbour to tell her parents to take their male dog and follow the trail of thread. The python took her to his house deep under the water where he forcefully impregnated her, and she became his wife.

The next day, her parents followed the trail which led them to a river. Feeling doubtful, they threw their male dog into the water. When the dog came out with dry fur which confirmed their suspicion, they jumped into the water. The young girl finally met her parents and when it was time for them to go, she filled her mother’s basket with dry leaves and instructed them to shake the basket after crossing the river. The parents followed the exact instructions and the dried leaves turned into money. The news spread widely and the neighbours became envious. The neighbours also thought that, if their daughter married a python, they too would become rich, so they started searching for a python. They found a wild python and placed it in the granary, then sent their daughter there, locking her in from the outside. When she screamed in agony, the parents thought that their daughter was enjoying the wild python. Soon the sound quieted down and they went to check on their daughter only to discover that she had been swallowed whole by the wild python. The parents blamed each other for their poor decision. Thus, the moral of the story is that greed is the root of all misfortune.

English Major Problems; A Hilarious Lament

Dearest readers or, as I like to call it, Potential Audience,

I am writing from the depth of distress....otherwise recognized as my dorm room, surrounded by piles of books, which were assigned reading, as a part of my SYLLABUS. As an English major, I am always reading, writing, or contemplating the meaning of life, which seems to be the correct way of describing my existence.

Let's talk about the reading from the perspective of a supposed progressive student . Oh, the reading! It's not just reading but it's analyzing. Every Single Word Probably. Am I overthinking it? Definitely. But if I don't, Professor Ghunato will glare at me and remark my work for 'lack of critical engagement with other texts.'

Then there's the writing. Essays, papers, analyses, critiques, presentations...it never ends. And it's not enough to just write, it has to be "profound" , It has to be "original". It has to be the kind of thing that makes other English majors admire with envy and professors nod satisfactorily . Meanwhile, I'm just trying to string together coherent sentences and sleepless nights with the desperate hope that my assignment makes sense.

As an English major, I'm constantly questioning the meaning of life, the nature of reality, and whether or not my degree will actually lead to a job. (Spoiler alert: probably not.) I'm surrounded by brilliant, articulate people who can quote Shakespeare from memory in their answers related to "The Hollow Men" .And I'm just trying to figure out how to use a semicolon correctly for real!

But let's be honest, The myth of the Perfect Student paints a picture of someone who effortlessly aces every exam, flawlessly participates in ever occasions and somehow still finds time to maintain a vibrant social life, all while looking perfectly put-together and It seriously breeds anxiety, fuels imposter syndrome, and discourages us from embracing our own unique strengths and learning styles.

Instead of chasing this spirit of perfection, let's celebrate the messy, imperfect reality of being a student. Let's acknowledge the late-night study sessions , the occasional missed deadlines, the moments of self-doubt, and the times when we just don't understand the material. These are not signs of failure; they are signs of growth, of pushing ourselves, of engaging with the challenges that come with higher education. Let's redefine success not by some arbitrary measure of perfection, but by our willingness to learn, to persevere, and to support each other along the way. Let's embrace our individuality, recognize that our worth is not defined by our SGPA, and remember that the most valuable lessons are often learned outside the classroom.

Yours in literary angst,

A Probably Doomed English Major Student,

Ekali Achumi

The distance between two homes

Bags once heavy, now light and small,
Once rushed home, now slow to call.
A door once wide with warmth and cheer,
Now closed, the silence feels too near.

Laughter filled the rooms before,
Now echoes softly, nothing more.
Where once there was a joyful sound,
Now quiet wraps the space around.

Racing home with a shout and a smile,
Now returning, walking alone for a while.
The house still stands, but it's not the same,
The warmth of old is just a name.

A new place now, where dreams take flight,
The home of old, left behind in sight.
Though footsteps may wander to where hearts reside,
The journey ahead calls, far and wide.

Time moves on, and the seasons change,
But memories linger, close yet strange.
The heart holds tight to where it's been,
Even as new paths call from within.

To the one standing in tomorrow

I hope you stand tall, strong, and free,
A woman who loves herself completely,
Independent, with no chains to bind,
Success and purpose perfectly aligned.

I hope our parents smile with pride,
Seeing their dreams bloom by your side.
Their sacrifices, not in vain,
But shining bright through joy and pain.

May friendships still hold, firm and true,
With laughter and memories, old and new.
Let focus and faith light your way,
Keeping all distractions at bay.

If storms come, don't lose your ground,
Let courage and hope always surround.
Dear future me, stay bold, stay kind,
With a steady heart and a focused mind.

Echoes of College Days

Oh, how the days have come and gone,
Yet in my heart, they linger on.
The laughter shared, the dreams we spun,
The countless nights before the sun.

Through campus paths, we walked so free,
A world of youth, just you and me.
The canteen talks, the endless chai,
The silly jokes, the whispered sigh.

Skipping class for reasons none,
Yet somehow, every day was fun.
Cramming notes the night before,
Yet laughing till we hit the floor.

Through every test, through joy and strain,
You stood beside me in the rain.
In failures, wins, in highs and lows,
A friend so true, the heart still knows.

The hostel lights at midnight dim,
The songs we sang on just a whim.
The borrowed books, the shared despair,
The moments only we could bear.

Now time has flown, the years have passed,
But memories stay-they hold on fast.
Though far we are, our bond remains,
Through life's great joys and silent pains.

So here's to you, my friend so dear,
Though miles apart, you're always near.
For college life may fade away,
But true friendship will never stray.

Velu Dawhuo

Holding Memories

As we part ways, i hold on tight,
To memories we made, day and night.
Laughter, tears and moments we share,
Friends like you, I'll always care.

Though distance may take us apart,
You'll always be in my heart.
Stay in touch, don't be stranger,
Friends forever, no matter the danger.

Farewell for now, but not goodbye,
In my heart, you'll never say die.
Keep shinning bright, keep chasing dreams,
I'll be cheering for you.

Until we meet agin, stay true,
Missing already,
Dear friends, i love you.

A Heart Unmoored

Oh, cruel fate, that took my family away,
Leaving me alone, to face each passing day.
No loving arms to hold me tight,
No gentle voice to soothe my night.

I drift on the tides of a lonely sea,
A heart unmoored, with no anchor to me.
I search for love but find only pain,
A heart that's broken with no one to gain.

My soul is a sail, torn and worn,
A young heart heavy, with sorrow and tears.
I search for a shore where I can find rest,
But the winds of sorrow forever persist.

Oh, for a loving home, where I can anchor my heart,
A place to call my own, where love will never depart.
But until that day, I'll wonder and roam,
A heart unmoored, with no place to reside.

Linika H. Awomi

A Stillness of A Broken Heart

In the silence of a Broken Heart,
I find a strange and quiet start,
A stillness that was never there,
Before the love and laughter shared.

The world outside receded from the view,
As I confront the love that last anew.
The pain of failure, sharp as a knife,
Cuts through the noise and brings new life.

In this quiet, dark and lonely place,
I find tranquility that time won't erase.
A sense of peace that's not of this earth,
A calm that soothes the soul's deepest hurt.

For in the failure of love, I've found,
A freedom from the chains that bound.
A chance to rediscover, to renew
To find myself, and all that's true.

So let the heartbreak be my guide,
And in its darkness, may I find pride.
For in the tranquility of failure's night,
I'll find the strength to rise, and shine with new light.

Linika H. Awomi

The Weight of Silence

My heart once full of laughter and delight,
Now feels like a heavy burden, a constant fight.
The world outside is bright; but mine is grey,
A reflection of the sadness that's here to stay.

I try to put on a brave face, a mask to hide
The pain and the struggles that I face inside.
But it's hard to pretend, to fake a smile.
When the weight of the world feels like it's worth my while.

I feel lost and alone, like I'm drowning in a sea,
Of emotions that are overwhelming, suffocating me.
I reach out for a lifeline, a hand to hold.
But it's hard to find my way, when the darkness is so cold.

I know I'm not alone, that others feel the pain
But it's hard to remember, when the sadness feels like rain.
I'll hold on to hope, a gleam of light,
And pray that someday soon, the darkness will take flight.

Imaginary Margin

biggest, brightest star once appears tiny, did it move further?
maybe we stopped looking how did the star really feel, I ponder season of flowers, they bloom do the flowers know?

stem and the roots go silent steadiest of the foundation shiver supernatural, such a myth even the strongest ones-are humans, we fail to see growing and aging, such pretentious game.

simplest of the words fail to form harshes flows like water gratitude follows after guilt unintentional, I know but do you?

smile so bright helps me be at ease first love, but none treated it well and if I smile back will it put you at ease?
a 'thank you' all I can afford.

This poem is significantly dedicated to our parents whom we often take for granted, realising things too late. We don't have to put ourselves in their shoes to understand them, we always notice their burden but we choose to ignore it, and by no means they make their burdens noticeable to their own children. They always try their best to be the pillars we can lean upon but isn't it their first time being a parent as well? Adults act like adults because they have to be an adult for us, whom we can lean on, but what if they're clueless when we're not around them? We often lash out at them, but how deep will their scar be when their only treasure whom they watched grow up utter words against them out of anger. We're always too late to realise things, we notice but we decide to ignore it because our consciousness can never imagine a pillar falling apart, but aren't they humans as well? Aren't we all humans? Such a vague line but one's perspective changes it all. We're all humans, all of us have our first time in everything we do, and it's their first time being a parent, so cut them some slack.

Letter to the Class of 2025

“As we depart from this majestic place let the tears be suffused with laughter, with memories and with the eternal promise that songs will be sung into the starlit night.”

To our excellent friends; the class of 2025,

It has been quite the journey, It was only three years ago that we came together, frankly scared yet incredibly excited. We wandered 'bout on tiptoe feet, quietly confused with strange faces looking for the classroom where we created endless memories. But, alas the end of any good chapter comes with an element of sadness.

Three years ago, we knew. We knew that the wonderful moments we created would eventually make the mournful transition from moments to memories and from memories to myth. We knew. Yet, in all our naivety, in all our helpless innocence, we hoped. We hope the end will never come. But, looking back the moments are now nothing but nostalgic echoes of the past that manifest the unfailingly ephemeral of life itself. Nothing lasts forever. The irony is we know. And if it cheers you up here's unsolicited advice from a friend to another: My History is very different to yours, but our future isn't so dissimilar. But, just know that if everything goes well a long time from now. You'll stop at the top of the hill for lunch and look back down at how far you have come and it'll have been worth it. We know we won't make it to the party for a long time yet, but when you do it will be an honour to welcome you into the warmth. And the next adventure we'll embark on together; as friends, as equals, as cousins with the universe in common, bound for the open road.

Perhaps the time for goodbye has arrived, yet what better way to express sorrow than by singing the yearnful eulogies of the past? And so, as we depart from this majestic place let the tears be suffused with laughter, with memories and with the eternal promise that songs will be sung into the starlit night.

Be proud; you've come such a long way. Be careful; there's so much further to go. Until we speak again, then- far from here, and long from now.

To our excellent friends,

With love and admiration, and the best wishes on your long journey.

We'll see you when you get here. Thank you for the memories.

Fare thee well.

Dear Graduating Batch of 2025,

Every end marks a new beginning—and with each new beginning comes the opportunity to embark on a fresh journey. As you step into this next chapter of life, may you carry with you the knowledge, values, experiences, and friendships that have shaped you throughout your time at Baptist College.

May every challenge you encounter become a stepping stone for growth, and each experience a lesson that refines you. Continue to walk with purpose, for the future holds infinite possibilities. Learn from the past, make wise choices, and embrace life's journey with a heart of gratitude.

As fish are to water and birds are to air, so are we created in God's image to live in His presence. For it is in God's presence that we find our true habitat—and it is there that we can live out our fullest potential.

With great confidence and hope, we believe you will go on to make meaningful contributions wherever life takes you.

Farewell, and best wishes for your journey ahead.

Sevolü Chüzho

Dear Graduating batch of 2025,

You arrived here wide-eyed and curious, armed with ambition, caffeine, and perhaps a vague idea of what a “future” might look like. And now, you leave with degrees, memories, and—if you’ve done it right—a beautifully messy collection of questions still waiting to be explored.

To my precious economics students, though I’ve only had the privilege of joining you for the final stretch of your academic journey, it’s been more than enough to witness the spark that sets this class apart. You’ve shown intellect, resilience, and the remarkable ability to discuss complex ideas and create memes about them—often in the same breath.

College, at its best, is less about answers and more about sharpening the questions. It’s about learning how to think deeply, speak honestly, and navigate a world that rarely hands you a syllabus. You’ve done that with humor, heart, and the occasional frantic all-nighter.

As you step beyond these halls, may you stay curious, stay kind, and never underestimate the power of a well-timed metaphor—or a good cup of coffee.

With admiration and warmest wishes,

Kelhouvinuo Metha

“College, at its best, is less about answers and more about sharpening the questions.”

I hope you never forget to be grateful for the journey_ every setback, every twist and turn. I hope you've become the person you always dream of being. Remember the strength it took to get here, and keep striving for what sets your soul on fire. "The Best Is Yet To Come".

Rahuto Rhakho

I hope you've grown into someone you're proud of. I know life has its ups and downs, but I trust that you've handled them with strength and wisdom. Whatever you're facing right now, remember how far you've come. Every challenge, every victory, and every lesson has shaped you into who you are today.

Don't forget to pause and appreciate the little things—sunsets, laughter, quiet moments. Keep chasing your dreams, no matter how big or small. Stay kind, stay curious, and never stop believing in yourself. Kehovi Sheqi as you read this, I hope you're doing well and making progress towards your goals. Remember that no matter how hard things may seem, it's important to keep going. Life is full of ups and down but keep pushing forward and never give up. I know that there may be a times when you feel like giving up, but don't let those moments defeat you.

Believe in yourself, have faith in your abilities and keep moving forward. See you in the future. Yamule Woch

I know that right now, you're working hard to achieve your goals and make your dream a reality. I want you to know that it's all worth it. Don't give up even when things get tough you are stronger than you think and you have the power to overcome any obstacle. And most importantly remember to believe in yourself that you have the power to create the life you want and I know you can do it. Keep shining. Lipulo A. Awomi

You're writing your story everyday. Make it bold, brave and unforgettable. Mühietsa Tsuozary

Take a moment to acknowledge the incredible journey you've been on. In moments of doubt, recall the challenge you've overcome and the lesson you've learned. Strive to just be yourself. Find out who you really are and be that person! Never stand on someone else's ground to be who they are—built your own hill to stand and look around at the roots you have sown to be who you are. Ayeto Awomi

I hope you have held onto that spark of curiosity and kindness. Please tell me you have learned to embrace the joy in simple moments, and chased those dreams with a fearless heart, remembering that true success is measured by the love you have shared and the integrity you have maintained, and that you are happy. Vilavonuo Rio

Don't worry for your present self haven't reached his full potential yet everyone hating, we on the right track I got your back. Rensuthung L Odyuo

You deserve all the happiness. Kekhrietuo Peya

I hope that when you read this, you are in a place of contentment, surrounded by people who uplift and inspire you. As I write this I am full of dreams and aspiration. Life is unpredictable and I hope there will be moments when you feel lost discouraged or unsure. You are stronger than you think and no matter what the future holds, I believe in you.

Kosappe Chuilo

Remember the struggle you had, don't just think that you built yourself overnight. And remember what you always wanted to become. YY Sulem

I hope you can be the manifestation of my efforts today, be the person who lives life to the fullest with less regrets. I am writhing a message, a hope for myself, for my future. If life is kind never forget to be grateful and loving. If life is not kind of you, remember that you are doing great. Things will be better soon. I hope you never forget who you are and never lost your way! Nahkai Konyak

I know you've already succeeded. No biggie.
Kechasetuo Zatsu.

I want to be different and improve from myself from now on, tell myself to be better, stronger for my future endeavor even if circumstances come my way. Aim the direction that my path follows, but not my friends follows. Kenyusolo Tep

This is somehow awkward for me because I'm not entirely sure how to write a letter to my future self but here it goes.

I'm so proud of you, you have worked really hard to get where you are and I want you to enjoy life a little bit more. In life you probably feel like giving up. However remember this and all will be well. You did well. Kumsuka V Choppy

Remember that no matter how things may seem. It's important to keep going. Life is full of ups and down, but it's the people who persist through the tough times that achieve happiness. Keep moving forward and never forget why you started on this journey in the first place. Believe in yourself, have faith in your in your abilities and keep going. I trust you.

The beautiful and amazing souls that I have as my friends now. Thungremo N Tungoe

The connections I made here which greatly enriched my experience. Among these is my bro(weri) whose friendship made a lasting impact on my college life. Last semester was certainly less enjoyable without you. Nüsavölü Kezo

The ramu, the kilo the Longkhoei and Renemji. Ouktha Chiu

My supportive professors who guide me through challenges and not forgetting my incredible friends who have become my lifelong companions

"Our friendship was a Symphony of laughter adventures, fights, tears and memories, played on the instruments of our hearts" without them my college experience would have been incomplete. Holikali Achumi

My college fellowship. It was not just an extracurricular activity but a platform where I forged lifelong friendships, discovered intellectual passions I never knew I had. I also developed a sense of purpose that extended far beyond the classroom, shaping not only my academic journey but also the very core of who I am today. Vilavonuo Rio

My friends who did crazy things with me. Rensuthung L odyuo

When I started college, it felt like I was going to stay here forever, but it ended in the blink of an eye, and I wish I could rewind it and start over and spend one more college life with my lovely friends and the best teachers in world. Sadly it's impossible. But after all, it was the best part of my life which I will cherish forever. Kekhrietuo Peya

The incredible people I met along the way. From friends who became family to professors who challenged and inspired me. College was more than just listening to lectures and writing exams. It was about discovering myself, stepping out of my comfort zone and creating memories. Kosappe Chuilo

The old version of me is not the same after the college experience you know why? Because I got the opportunity to have studied in the best college where I got to see different version of myself. I can also not forget the laughter, joy and tears I shared with the lecturers and my mates. Y.Y Sulem

To that particular junior 'gurl'. Idk her but 'gurl', you literally took my blazer and left yours in the washroom. So obviously I took yours. And damn 'gurl', your blazer, logo and all the buttons are so good and new. Don't worry. I took great care of your blazer. Shevini Achumi

If I have 100% attendance or just 1% that's because of our beautiful lecturers. History Miss (to be precise). Eshonthung N Kikon

Once I went to the (men's) washroom to pee. I pushed the toilet door thinking there was no one inside because the door was slightly open, but in a milliseconds I slightly saw one guy sitting "you know what that means" (dropping a bomb). So I hurriedly closed the door and said sorry and left. (bro I didn't see anything that day, if you are reading this). Jilo L Kajiri

I give a proxy to my friends almost all the time, but teachers doesn't know. Kehovi Sheqi

In my 3rd semester I got trouble for my low attendance and had to deal with parents call. So I did the only logical thing. I convinced a random stranger walking by the college to be my parents for a meeting with our HOD. Let's just say it was an interesting experience. Luckily the HOD didn't suspect a thing. Lipulo A. Awomi

When my friend asked if I had any sweets, I told them I didn't, even though I actually did. Mühietza Tsuoary

I Joined Baptist College Kohima for it's short distance from my place to college. Thungremo N Tungoe

I've got a secret crush on someone in my class, and Weri's the only one who knows. Nüsavolü Kezo

There's one gay among them. Ouktha Chiu

No one has any idea about my silent affection for that sir. Holikali Achumi

I dated someone who was younger and shorter than me for a whole year! Vilavonuo Rio

To the lecturer who said I am a 'nepotism kid', you were my favorite teacher. Nothing but love and respect for you. Rensuthung L Odyuo

Love you Ina Wsu. Kekhrietuo Peya

It is said that a person who makes fun and laugh the most is the one whose heart is actually heavy enough, and here I'm with full of life's burden trying to act normal everyday, seeking for inner peace, laughing and making fun, and yet staying strong to prove myself as a man! Nahkai konyak

I'm secretly a pro gamer. Kechasetuo Zatsu

In the three years of my college, I didn't attend the devotion even once! Kenyusolo Tep

From the day I joined college, I never attended devotional service. Kumusuka V Choppy

During my first semester, I inadvertently attended an English major class, mistakenly assuming it was a required course of my department. Nütsolü

One time, I unscrewed the decorative ball thingy from the staircase railing in the main building, put it in my bag, went to class like nothing happened, and later screwed it back casually like a secret agent on a mission. No one noticed...or so I think. Zubeni

I steal people's line during prayer. Jessica Futhena

Always smiling, always kind, but sometimes... just a little annoying. You can’t stay mad at Jilo for long, though.

Celebrity Match: Varun Dhawan bcus funny, charming, and sometimes a little annoying

Pretend He’s Dumb but Actually Smart – Longkhoi

Acts clueless, but don’t be fooled. He’s secretly good at studies. He’ll deny it, but we all know the truth.

Celebrity Match: Chris Hemsworth because he plays dumb in movies but is actually super smart.

Vanish in a Second (on His Bike, of Course) – Rahuto

You turn your head for a second, and poof Rahuto is gone. Need to talk to him? Too bad. He’s already halfway across town on his bike. Some say he doesn’t walk, he just teleports with wheels.

Celebrity Match: Tom Cruise because he is always running or riding something ridiculously fast

Say “One Last Drink”... and Stay for Five More –

Rensuthung

We’ve all heard it—“Just one last drink, guys!” Lies. One turns into five, and before you know it, Rensuthung is leading the karaoke session at 3 AM.

Celebrity Match: Charlie Sheen because chaotic, wild, and unapologetically himself.

Treat Class Like a Guest Appearance – Kechasetuo

He doesn’t attend class, he visits. Teachers don’t even get mad anymore they just accept that Kechasetuo operates on his own mysterious time zone. And when he does show up? It’s like a celebrity cameo unexpected but somehow entertaining.

Celebrity Match: Johnny Depp because unpredictable, unconventional, and just vibes his way through life.

To My Teachers

We stepped in this college as a stranger but now, we leave as one family with hope and vision. Now the time has come to embark to the next chapter leaving nostalgic memories and experience behind, which cannot be faded even though the college bell never rings for me again.

To my amazing friends and mates, I want to express my heartfelt gratitude because you weren't not a mere companion but a chapter that made my story worth reading. Thank you for your support and encouraging me in every situation I face leaving unfadable memories in my heart.

I also want to express my heartfelt gratitude to my teachers and chaplain for your guidance, wisdom and unwavering belief in us have shaped me mentally, physically and spiritually. Your hard work and patients open my mind with hope and vision towards my future.

Always remember that education is a life long process and farewell is not the end but the beginning toward a new complicated chapter of your life.

Longkhai C

Dear Miss Imtisenla Mokholee, I wanted to express my sincere gratitude for your dedication and the positive impact you've had on my learning. Thank you for being such a great teacher!

Chonbenthung

Thank you, miss Imtisenla Mokholee, for being an incredible teacher and mentor. Your dedication, patience, and passion inspire me. I'm lucky to have had you in my educational journey.

Avungo M Shitiri

Miss Imtisenla Mokholee.

For being more than just a teacher your kindness, patience and expertise have made a lasting impact on my life. I'm grateful for the lesson you've taught me. I'm grateful for your guidance and support throughout my academic journey. Thank you again for being amazing teacher and mentor. I'll always cherish the memories and lessons I've learned from you.

Joseph L Patton

To the lecturers who stood at the front of the class day after day, pouring knowledge into minds that were often sleep-deprived, distracted, or occasionally just lost in the maze of life thank you.

You didn't just teach us theories, formulas, or facts. You taught us discipline when we rushed in late with excuses. You taught us resilience when we stumbled through difficult assignments. And you taught us passion simply by showing up every day, committed to shaping futures you might never fully witness.

In between your lectures, there were life lessons. In your corrections, there was care. And in your silence during our chaos, there was patience beyond measure. We may not have said it then but now, as we turn the last pages of this chapter, we see clearly how much you've influenced our growth. You challenged us, supported us, and sometimes gave us a reality check when we needed it most.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for Dear classmate

As our college life came to an end, I want to thank my classmate who have made me Happy, laugh and help me grow. Thank you for the fun memories, the support and the lesson we have shared. Here's to the moment we'll always carry with your time, your effort, your energy, and your belief in us, even on days we didn't believe in ourselves. You've left a mark on us far deeper than a grade ever could.

Jessica Futhena

To my Friends & Classmates

My friends,

As we stand at the edge of our final semester, it's hard to believe how quickly the years have flown by. What started as a bunch of strangers walking into a new phase of life soon turned into a group of friends who now feel like family. From awkward hellos to deep conversations at 2 AM, we've grown, laughed, stumbled, and risen together.

These years gave us more than just a degree they gave us unforgettable friendships, midnight snack runs, group studies that turned into gossip sessions, and countless memories we'll hold onto forever. We faced deadlines, back-to-back exams, and unexpected victories. And through it all, we had each other. Some of us were loud, some quiet. Some were always up for fun, some always the responsible ones. But together, we made a batch that was full of energy, chaos, and love. Every inside joke, every last-minute plan added color to our college life and saying goodbye to that is the hardest part.

As we prepare to go our separate ways towards jobs, dreams, further studies, or simply figuring life out. I just want to say: thank you. Thank you for the memories, the laughter, the support, and the bond. Wherever life takes us, these years will always be a special chapter one we'll look back on with a full heart and a smile.

Here's to the sleepless nights, the unforgettable days, and the friendships that made college worth it. Let's carry this madness and magic with us, wherever we go. And no matter how far life takes us, let's promise to never forget where we began right here, together.

Hey besties, I just wanted to take a moment to express how grateful I am for each and every one of you. You've brought so much joy, laughter, and love into my life, and I'm honored to have you all by my side. Through the ups and downs, you've been there for me, offering support, encouragement, and a listening ear. Your friendship means the world to me, and I cherish the memories we've made together. Whether we've shared adventures, late-

My classmates,

It feels surreal to call this our final semester. Looking back, it's hard to believe how far we've come together. From the first day of college, filled with nervous energy and unfamiliar faces, to now, when those same faces hold memories, laughter, and years of shared moments.

We sat through endless lectures, survived surprise tests, and pulled off last-minute submissions like professionals. We've had debates over group projects, celebrations after results, and countless little moments in between that we'll cherish forever. Even those rushed mornings, the side glances during boring lectures, and the who's taking notes today? Questions all of it made this journey unforgettable.

We were more than just classmates we were a team. We helped each other survive semesters, found comfort in shared confusion, and found strength in unity. Every interaction, no matter how big or small, played a part in shaping this beautiful chapter of our lives.

As we now step into the world beyond classrooms, it's not just the syllabus we're taking with us it's the shared jokes, the unity before exams, the teamwork in chaos, and the unspoken bond that only classmates truly understand.

Thank you all for being part of this ride. Whether we were best friends or brief partners in a group assignment, each of you contributed to the story of these years. I hope life takes you to places you've dreamed of, and I hope we cross paths again not just as former classmates, but as people who once shared a beautiful beginning.

night conversations, or just everyday moments, every second with you guys has been precious. Thank you for being my rock, my confidante, and my partners in crime. I love you all and look forward to many more amazing experiences together. You're more than just friends – you're family.

S Pongsola Yimchunger

Dear classmates, as we move forward in our journey, I want to express my heartfelt gratitude for the time we've spent together. Our classroom was more than just a place of learning – it was a space where friendships were forged, memories were created, and dreams were nurtured. I'm so grateful for the laughter, the struggles, and the triumphs we shared. Wishing each of you all the best in your future endeavors. May our paths cross again, and may the memories we've made remain close to our hearts. Thank you for being an incredible mates – you've made my time here truly special.

To my teachers, I want to express my deepest gratitude for all that you've done for me. Your guidance, patience, and dedication have not only helped me grow academically but also personally. You've inspired me to dream big, work hard, and believe in myself. Your lessons went beyond textbooks, teaching me valuable life skills and morals that I'll carry with me forever. Your support and encouragement meant the world to me, especially during challenging times. I'll always be grateful for the time I spent in your classroom, for the wisdom you shared, and for the impact you've had on my life. You are not just my teacher's but my guide and my second parents. Thank you for being more than just teachers – you've been mentors, role models, and friends. I wish you all the best and hope to make you proud in my future endeavors. Your influence will stay with me forever, shaping me into a better person.

With gratitude

We survived barely! I'm still in awe of how we made it through those grueling exams, caffeine-fueled study sessions, and questionable cafeteria food. We've earned a PhD in procrastination and a Bachelor's in bragging about how little sleep we got. These past few years have been an incredibly wild ride of laughter, inside jokes, talks about love, life and everything in between. Our -next class? -my presentation! ! -What exam? ? Will be death with May. And 'that' day will official become our last day with uniform. That restaurant of ours will no more play our wild music. And I guess no more chana mix of "baki". Our stupid names on desk will slowly fade. You guys have seen me at my most caffeinated, basically-a-walking-zombie, i-have-no-idea-what-I'm-doing. And yet you still manage to put up with me. Big hugs for y'all...

Be you wherever you go in life because there certainly cannot be a case where a great future for a soul as radiant as yours is not there.

Shevini Achumi

As our college life came to an end, I want to thank my classmate who have made me Happy, laugh and help me grow. Thank you for the fun memories, the support and the lesson we have shared. Here's to the moment we'll always carry with us.

Just wanted to say thanks for always being there. You all mean more to me than I probably say out loud.
'Love you Harmonix'.

Mühietsa Tsuozyary

As I bid farewell to this chapter of my life, I'd like to express my heartfelt gratitude to my fellow BCK mates. Over the past three years, we've shared incredible experiences that have shaped us into the individuals we are today – from the camps, to the activities that fostered our creativity, and the devotional services led by our esteemed and charismatic chaplain that nourished our spirits. I hope these years have been as unforgettable for you as they have been for me.

As we sign off from college life and embark on new journeys, I wish you all the best. As the saying goes, "Life is full of adventures waiting to happen." May life take you on incredible journeys, to new heights, and may you find happiness, success, and fulfillment in all your endeavors. May you chase your dreams, pursue your passions, and make a meaningful impact in the world.

I'd also like to extend my sincerest gratitude to our amazing lecturers, who have not only imparted knowledge but also inspired and mentored us. Thank you all so much for your dedication, patience, and support. We're grateful for the time we've spent under your guidance.

To my fellow juniors, I offer these parting words of wisdom: cherish every second, minute, and hour of this college life.

"The two hardest things to say in life are hello for the first time and goodbye for the last." - Moira Rogers

Jilo L Kajiri

Just want to say thanks for being amazing friends, I'm so grateful for our friendship and support throughout college. You guys are the best! Love you Harmonic.

Six semesters, endless memories—and yes, a few trips to the Staff room (totally worth it). Like the time we got caught playing Ludo in class, had our phones taken, and had to write an apology that felt more like a bail request. Or when we laughed a bit too loudly at the back in Ms. Veshetsulu Ruho's class and found ourselves standing awkwardly in her office—application in hand, guilt on our faces, and laughter still refusing to leave.

College, for us, wasn't just about lectures and attendance—it was about soup chow cravings, Chana mix obsession, fried rice and puri runs, and the sacred bond we shared over samosas. It was Ludo battles, last bench chaos, and moments that made even the most boring days feel alive.

To my forever chaotic circle—#Chon, #Beno, #Phyo, #Pongso—yes, we roast, we gossip, we act like complete idiots together, but honestly? You made every single day feel like a K-Drama series I never wanted to end.

To my dear teachers—thank you for the wisdom, the patience, and for not giving up on us when we clearly gave up on paying attention. You taught us more than chapters—you taught us how to keep going with a smile during our lowest.

Baptist College Kohima—you've been wild, warm, and wonderfully unforgettable. Signing off with a full heart, priceless memories, and probably a pending assignment or two.

On College Life

In the halls of knowledge, we begin our quest,
A tapestry woven with dreams confessed.
Between worn textbooks and midnight oil's gleam,
We chase the light of our unfinished dream.
The campus sings with whispers of the past,
Echoes of laughter and bonds built to last.
Pages turn like seasons in our short span,
Each lesson is a step in the making of a plan.
We are the architects of hope's silent call,
Bold hearts and curious minds rising tall.
Each lecture, each challenge, a stepping stone laid,
Where mistakes are the bricks and wisdom the aid.
In sunlit quads and cafes on rain-soaked days,
Friendship blooms in unexpectedly vibrant ways.
Our voices merge in an anthem, a spirited cry,
As we dare to imagine, to learn, and to fly.
So here's to the moments that shape who we'll be—
A journey of wonder, of growth, wild and free.
For college it is more than just books and exams;
It's a canvas of life, where we write our own plans.

My College Memories

My college journey ended in the blink of an eye
When I walked into the class for the first time,
I was nervous seeing new faces,
a room full of strangers.
But as days went by Strangers became familiar
Background and community became insignificant.
My classmates, our day was incomplete without being scolded by our lecturers
Or without teasing each other by tagging our admire's name.
I have many memories to cherish forever
Because of you,
My partners in crime in bunking classes.

Life's Just Begun

A step right into a new Home,
I knew it was worth the journey.
The new hands I've shaken,
And the new faces I've met.
A path that no one saw it coming,
But it fell right into place, didn't it?
Our lame jokes on top notch,
We never had the chance to realise every journey has
A destination.
Look where we're standing now,
With a degree in hand and memories in our hearts.
We've come a long way my Friends,
And you and I both know it's not the end.....just yet.
So Rev up your engines, Brothers....
For, we're racing till we make it.

The Burden of Expectations

Stands before us ,with a lesson to share.
 Expect to learn ,grow and to thrive.
 To imbibe knowledge like a sponge alive.
 We're encouraged to walk the line ,between freedom and design .
 To respect peers ,and avoid senseless sign .
 Expect us to try ,to preserve avoid and strive .
 To push beyond limits and reach for the sky .
 But sometimes forgets ,that we're still growing .
 That mistakes are inevitable and learning is showing .
 Do we see the uniqueness, in every single child ?
 Do we expect ,a uniform ,perfect role ?
 Do we give room for mistakes and for fears ?
 Or do we add weight, to doubts and tears ?
 We all have expectations of others ,
 Based on our connection ,and the love we discover .

True Friend

A friend in need ,the saying goes,
 Is a friend indeed,as everyone knows.
 A true Friend,to me ,is one who gives,
 Her time and energy, the life she lives.

A true Friend never judge you,
 But lifts you up when skies aren't blue.
 A True Friend never shares your fears,
 Or tells your secrets to others ears.

She gives a bit of what she's got,
 Even if it's just a little, not a lot.
 With open heart and helping hand,
 A True Friend helps you understand.

That is what a friend should be –
 That is what a friend means to me.

College Life: A Beautiful Mess of Chaos

College: Where you pay a fortune just to sleep in class, stress over last minute exam preparation,bunk classes to enjoy yourself in the cafeteria with your broke friends.

Calling your friends the night before an exam to “discuss study plans”, but somehow ends up talking about something else.

Also a part of the college experience: answering roll call for your absent friend like a trained voice actor, then immediately ducking to avoid eye contact with the professor. True friendship requires skill , stealth, and a solid fake cough .

In the end, college isn't just about the degree. It's about mastering the art of battling sleep during 9:00 a.m. lectures, pretending to understand while actually scrolling through reels, faking attendance like a pro and making unforgettable memories. It's chaotic, exhausting -and somehow, totally worth it at the end of the day .

Memories in the making: Our Department's Picnic Journey

In our third semester, our department decided to plan a picnic by ourselves, and though only a few of us could make it, it turned out to be an unforgettable day. It was more than just a getaway; it was about creating memories and strengthening our bonds. The day was filled with laughter, fun, and countless photos, even though some classmates couldn't join us. But what made that picnic even more special was the hope that we'd have more opportunities to create similar memories.

Had high hopes for future trips planning for the 4th and 5th semesters but, unfortunately, things didn't go as planned. There wasn't enough cooperation among us, and we couldn't make it happen. It felt like our chance had slipped away. But, as the sixth semester rolled around, the possibility of another picnic resurfaced. This time, the faculty team asked for pictures of our department to showcase, and we realized we didn't have any pictures from the third semester outing. As many of us weren't in the photos from that day.

That's when we decided, once again, to come together for one last picnic. We needed those memories, not just for the pictures, but for the experiences we would carry with us long after we graduated.

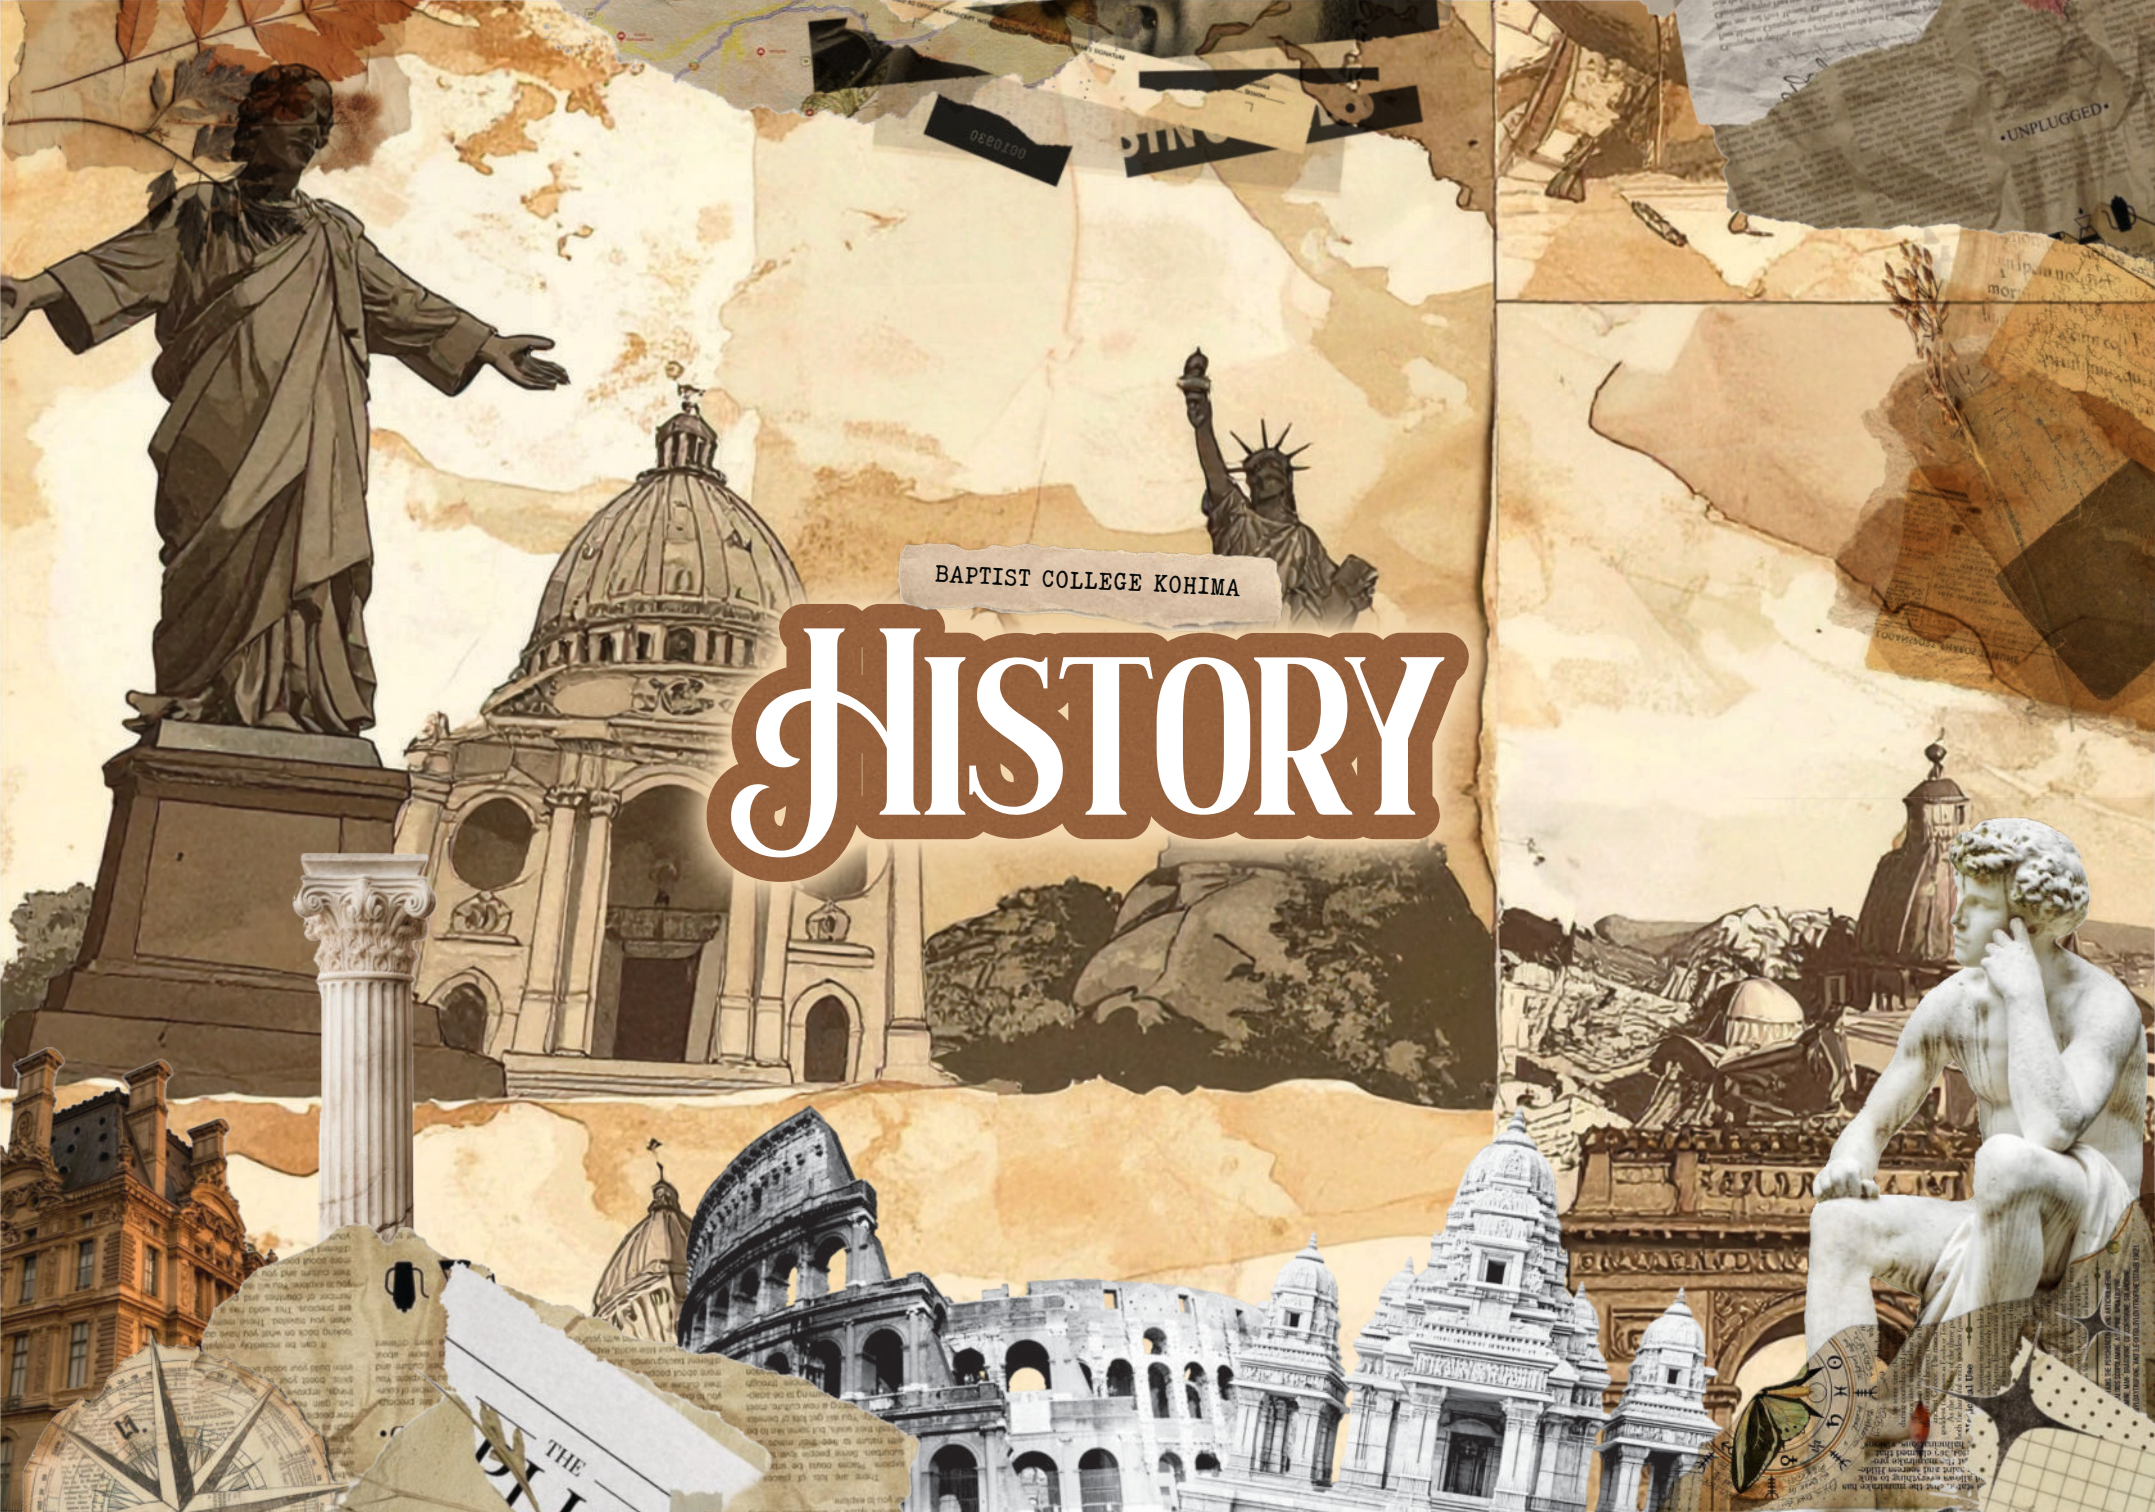

Sadly, some couldn't make it due to personal reasons, but those of us who went had an incredible time. The weather was perfect, the vibe was perfect, and we were able to capture the moments that had eluded us earlier. The best part was just being together, laughing, taking pictures, and talking about everything, our journey through the department, our challenges, and of course, the excitement for the future.

As the day came to a close and we were about to head home, something unexpected happened. Just as we were snapping our final pictures, the rain started pouring down. It felt like the universe was adding a final touch to our day. It was as if the weather was giving us a reminder to cherish the moments we have because, sometimes, they can pass by in the blink of an eye. Even though some couldn't be with us, the memories we made that day were ones we'll hold on to forever.

Message from the HoD

Dear Graduating Class,

Learn to give your best in whatever you do. The civilization is advancing and human race is taking leaps and bounds in progress because someone somewhere is giving his or her best. And you can do the same only if you stay focus and content.

Be happy and do not regret the past but learn from it. Always look on the sunny side of life and press on towards your goal as you will not get a second chance to live. There is no other alternative except to give your best.

Finally, checking out with a saying by George Santayana, “those who do not learn from the past are condemned to repeat it.”

My College experience

THE SAME WITHOUT ...

2. My college experience would not have been the same without

The spontaneous road trips that made weekends unforgettable. Eunsil Kath

My dearest craziest friends, who always supports me, laughed with me and loved me. Always volunteered to help me during my worst days and cheered me up during my happiest moments. I really do appreciate my college friends and classmates who loved and treated me as family. My dearest lecturers who gave so much of their time to push and help me grow, the college events that allowed me to explore my passions and the support and encouragement of my parents. The college had taught me to experience good things out of my comfort zone and helped me grow. Gloria Yimchunger

My friends who made the tough times easier and the good times unforgettable. Huve-o Sakha

My amazing friend who became my family, away from home. Hotoli Wotsa

My three idiot friends. Mother Avi, dodo bird, Baby shark. Khuzhave Chugho

My supportive friends who shared countless laughter-filled moments with me, who made every memory beautiful and unforgettable. Khekika S.Yeptho

My friends. Dziesesietuo kezio

Playing puzzle games in the class with friends when explanations are going on Keduovinu Suny

My group of friends, classmates and lecturers. This journey helped me to develop my skills, knowledge and prepared me for the challenges and opportunities that lies ahead. Kevile-ü Loucū

My friends, our gossips and our future planning. Lensula T

The invaluable friendships, inspiring professors and transformative opportunities that challenge and supported me along the way. Lamvise Thongtsar

My friends that I met in Baptist college with whom I shared countless memories, laughter and adventures together. Lito. H. Zhimo

My amazing friends, we've shared countless memories, laughter and late night conversations especially during exam which made the conversation more interesting. M Lichanbeni Shitri

Food and friends. Friends made the long days bearable, food on the other was the comfort that kept me going. Meribeni Murry

My 'chaotic friends'- the professional procrastinators (I will do it tomorrow), overthinkers and last minute miracle workers... honestly we survived on luck and caffeine, wouldn't change a thing. Last but not the least, the camp and devotional services led by our beloved Chaplain Sir Momo. It feels good to be in God's presence in the midst of chaotic times! Metevinu Zhotso

My best friends. We've shared countless memories from exploring the campus to pulling all nighters during exams. You've been my rock, my confident, and my partner in crime. From spontaneous road trips to deep conversations about life, you've been there for me through thick and thin. I'm grateful for your unwavering support and your generous heart. Mhetsekhrou Tsuhah

The new perspective I gained. Monica Sarkar

My friends, the laughter and inside jokes we shared. College is more than just classes and grades, It was a journey of connection, self- discovery and unforgettable memories. Mushao.S

As someone who struggle with shyness and social anxiety, the thought of attending college was daunting, but thanks to my friends encouragement, they introduced me to fresh perspectives, helped me navigate through challenging moments and made the journey so much easier. A highlight to my college experience was the College gospel camp in my 6th semester, which was a turning point where I learnt to venture beyond my comfort zone and cultivate a deeper appreciation for life's beauty and complexities. Nounevono Vimero

My mentor, who guided me through though academic decisions. Puhiu P

My wonderful friends, classmates and supportive teachers. Videvi Tholre

Friends, late night sessions and the challenges that helped me grow. Ruokuotuonuo Rio

My good friends who always supported me and helped me, our laughs are limitless and our memories are countless and my dearest lecturers who guided and helped me grow. Songūla Khiunger

Bunking classes and playing word puzzle behind my friend's back when class is going on. Yanon

My friends and some of the best lecturers. Yongang C S

Here's to all the idiots who made college bearable, to the friends who call when you are having a bad day and just rant. To the friend who tells you about nice music. Ponchi Sarkar

My three idiots Cowjini, Dora, Baby Shark. Zhahchonve N. Jusah

My amazing friends, supportive professors and unforgettable memories. Moiphen Sosoly

My friends with whom I shared countless memories and laughter.
Eshenbeni T. Kikon

My best friend who became my family and my professors who inspired and challenged me to learn. Also, the late night conversations with friends that turned into lifelong memories. Dzuthosulu Chuzho

The memories of laughter, excitement and adventure with my friends.
Alex Y. Ngullie

My three idiotic yappers, mother Avi aka Kujivi, our dora the explorer aka khuzhave and last but not the least, our extinct bird Dodo aka Zhahchonve. Sharmila Raika

My friends and lectures. Lots of joy and fun memories with them. Appreciate them all for the wonderful memories.
Thepfukielie Sopfi

Looking back I realized that my college experience was enriched by the friendship I formed and the wisdom I gained from my lectures. I cherish those memories and appreciate the impact they've had on me.
Manisi Rathu

College gave me many things, but you all (my cicadas) we the most unexpected and unforgettable gift. Amid deadlines, late-night study and all the chaos college brought. From deep talks to unforgettable laughter, you all made my chapter unforgettable. Khriebeinu Rio

Engaging in activities that concerned my people. Kezhaser Lhousa

My friends. They made my college life 100 times better by being in it.
Dalotsa

My friend who always supported me. Kuojivi Kajiri

My friends who were less like human and more like a zoo full of absolute maniac—who always look up to me, and my lectures who were so good that even when I had no idea what's going on in the class I still felt like I was learning. Jesse Kapfo

My racist friends. Without them, I wouldn't have learned that history really does repeat itself- unfortunately in this minds. Razo Ringa

The friendships I made. They shaped my growth and made the journey unforgettable. Thejavilhou Krose

My small Gang {Theja, Vide, Richard, Alex, Janbemo, Razio, and many more} because they were the reason I love going to college everyday to have that 'Yo Yo' conversation, making fun of each other Saying 'NO HARD FEELINGS' ...We had made so much memories which we will forever cherish it. Thank you my Gang for the History.. Thank you Historians for your cooperation, support and Memories which I'll cherish forever. Phosangwu

The friendship I made and the leadership opportunities I had as a female class representative that personally mould me increased confidence and self awareness, develop emotional intelligence and interpersonal skill. Above all, thanks to my dearest mates for your belief in me. As I think back to all the special times we shared, I want to express my sincere gratitude for our friendship which was filled with joy and wonderful moments. Honestly, words can't express how grateful I am to have your friendship in my life. Thank you for supporting me, accepting me and for being such good people.
Langam Shukha

My friends who made every moment enjoyable and unforgettable. From canteen gossip to endless food craving. Lumpila A Sangtam

My friends who are the reason why I attend my class. Pongyo T Meyo

The laughter that echoed in the hallways, the echoes of last minute submission and the people who made ordinary days extraordinary.
Külüzo Swuro

Supportive lectures and good friends. Kavi Achumi

My amazing professors, supportive friends and life changing opportunities. Thank you everyone who made my college journey unforgettable.
Kiutsumong

My amazing friends and teachers. And nostalgia of autumn, enjoying walking through crunch leaves, cosy atmosphere and admiring campus scenery with leaves changing colours. Tonishi A. Awomi

My beautiful friends with whom I shared laughter, adventures and memories. Mannon M. Konyak

APPINOTES

Amazing professors who inspired me and lifelong friends who supported me. These relationships and experiences shaped me into the person I am today. Catherine kesen

The help of AI. Chathavino

Having chana mix just to gossip. Visietuo-ü Theünüo

My friends. They were my support system through the highs and lows, helping me navigate the challenges of academics and life. Whether it was late-night study session, spontaneous adventures or simply sharing laugh, their presence made everything More memorable. Sorila A. Yimchunger

#welistenwedon'tjudge

When I was 1st semester, my minor subject was sociology, but I attended Political science class to give proxy for my friend. I sat on the first bench right in front of the lecturer, but did not get caught. Also once, I brought a friend from another college and attended class just to give my classmate's roll proxy. Gloria Yimchunger

Well...guess what!/? No one knows how many classes I've skipped. Hotoli Wotsa

Sometimes I dislike it when teachers don't inform us that they will be on leave. Khuzhave Chugho

Me and my friend once made fried rice and instead of using plate we used paper and ate the paper with the rice. Keduovinuio Suny

One day I saw my friend's stuff falling but due to my laziness I did not bother to pick it up, making that person search like anything. Kevile-ü Loucü

I went to the principal's office in place of my friend only to get scolding and wrote an apology letter on behalf of my friend. M Lichanbeni Shitri

Our class went on a trip to Khonoma, and my friend and I volunteered to cook chicken for everyone. The next morning, the whole class — including the lecturers — ended up with loose motion. Metevinu Zhotso

You've been told, we don't have a budget for speakers but then you see their event sponsor list and they're charging attendees. Monica Sarkar

During a college program at URA academy, my friend and I arrived late and feeling embarrassed to enter the hall, we went to college and locked ourselves, we spent the day playing silent games like lock and key , blindfolds, holding our breath, hoping not to get caught by the principal and sneaking out just in time to mark our Attendance. Nounevono Vimero

I argue in my head and win every time. Puhiu P
There was a time when I wrote my friend's internal exam because he could not get up on time. Videvi Tholre

I've felt young as freshman, tired as juniors and completely done as seniors. Ruokuotuonuo Rio

I always missed my classes with guts and let my friends give my roll proxy. Songüla Khiunger

My friend talks very slow that's why I listen to her voicemail in 2x. Yanon

I swore to my friends and family that I would never date a man who drinks, but I ended up dating such kind of man. Ponchi Sarkar

I have a big crush on my female friend.

I have never seen the books listed in the bibliography of my assignment. Visietuo-ü Theünüo

My friends and I had a plan to wear mask throughout the entire semester, thinking it would help us in building our confidence. However the mask became uncomfortable and people started to notice our insecurities. By the 4th semester we gave up wearing mask and believe me we can finally breath freely. Sorila A. Yimchunger

Kindness isn't Weakness it is Power

I honestly can't understand how pride, ignorance, and hate have become so normalized. It's everywhere online, in schools, workplaces, even in our communities. People tearing each other down, whether for their looks, choices, or beliefs, has become a daily routine. And for what? It has absolutely nothing to do with strength or power. Mocking someone, belittling women, or thinking you're better than others because of status or wealth doesn't make you strong it just reveals your own insecurities.

At the end of the day, we're all human, and none of these things—success, beauty, money—define our worth. What truly matters is how we treat others, especially in a world where cruelty has become so casual.

Being kind to every living being, respecting everyone regardless of their background, and wishing the best for others, these are the real marks of strength and maturity. Imagine how much lighter life would feel if we all carried a bit more kindness. But let's be clear—kindness doesn't mean weakness. It doesn't mean letting people walk all over you or tolerating disrespect. No one should endure mistreatment, and standing up for yourself is important. But standing up doesn't mean stooping to the same level as those who are mean-spirited. Keep your respectful distance, set clear boundaries, and move on. Think about how much hate is already out there whether it's in politics, social media, or even conversations with strangers. Do we really need to add to it? No. The world needs less cruelty, not more. So never, ever lose your humanity. Let kindness and goodness guide you, even when others try to drag you down. It's the one thing no one can take away from you.

Metevinu Zhotso

Live in the Moment

Sometimes, life feels like a whirlwind, rushing us from one task to the next. In the chaos, it's easy to forget to be present, to feel the warmth of the sun on your skin, or to savor that first sip of coffee in the morning.

Living in the moment isn't about forcing yourself to be happy all the time; it's about finding peace with where you are, right now. Start by slowing down, just a little. Notice the small details: the way the leaves rustle in the wind, the sound of laughter from a nearby conversation, or the rhythm of your own breath. These are the moments that often go unnoticed but hold the power to ground you. When your mind starts racing with worries about the future or regrets from the past, gently bring it back to the present. It's okay if it wanders; that's just what minds do. What matters is your choice to come back, over and over again.

To My Teachers and Friends

If you've ever sat in a class with me, you already know, I was never the quiet one. I was the talkative, curious, sometimes annoyingly loud, sometimes making it a little harder for some of you to concentrate. I asked the questions others were too shy to ask, cracked jokes at the wrong moments, and even pushing the lecturers to the edge of their patience, but they always responded with grace and not anger.

To my dear teachers, thank you, thank you for seeing me beyond the noise. For noticing that even the loudest student was just trying to learn in his own way. Thank you for never embarrassing me, for never making me feel like I didn't belong, even when I gave you every reason to. You didn't just teach history you taught compassion, understanding, and how to handle people with different hearts and personalities. Thank you for the encouragement and believing in me and for never giving up on me.

To my friends, thank you for the memories, love, and for helping me become the person I am today. You saw me at my loudest, at my silliest, at my most unfiltered and still chose to stick around. Thank you for making me feel seen, accepted, and always a little less alone.

Thank you for everything.

A Message

What surprises me most about humankind is that, we get bored of our childhood, rush to grow up and yearn to be children again. That we lose our health, to make money and then we lose our money to restore our health. That by thinking anxiously about our future we forget the present. Such that we live in neither the present nor the future That we live as if we were never going to die, and die as though we've never lived.

Meribeni Murry

A Message to My Lecturers

Despite being quite a handful with my irresponsible and rebellious nature, my lecturers have been the most patient and most endearing mentors. They bore all my nonsensical answers, my childish antics and my low attendance with tight lipped stoicism, tolerating me for all these six semesters with an extremely cool temperament. I, for one, was treated more like the lecturers' own child rather than just a mere student and that way, I was loved and cared for through reprimanding though all I deserved was a good thrashing to get back on the academic track. I may have never showed signs of improvement nor have I ever achieved any extraordinary titles to bring laurels to the lecturers or the department as a whole but I believe I have learned so much from my teachers and I will carry it through this lifetime. Patience, perseverance, tolerance and self-realization are a few of the many values that my lecturers have instilled in me and my classmates which will help us to grow in life. I am extremely grateful for all that the lecturers have done for me to this day for which I am afraid, I may never be able to return what they have given me. Nevertheless, my lecturers have left an indelible mark in my life, and many others, I suppose, for their hardwork in not only imparting knowledge but wisdom to every student they are entrusted with.

Message to My Dear Classmates

History department BCK2022-2025 batch

As we stand at the edge of this incredible chapter, I find myself filled with gratitude and nostalgia. These years have been more than just lectures, assignments, and exams—they've been about friendships formed, lessons learned, and memories made that will last a lifetime. Dear my classmates, thank you for being a part of this journey.

Each one of you has contributed to making college an unforgettable experience. We laughed, we stressed, we grew—and now we part ways, ready to take on the world. Though we may walk different paths from here, I hope the bond we shared will always remain. Wishing everyone success, happiness, and fulfillment in whatever lies ahead. Here's to new beginnings and cherished memories!

Long live ____ "HISTORIANS "

Phosangwu-James

Dear mates!

As we close another chapter in our lives together, I want to take a moment to reflect on the incredible journey we've shared. Every moment has been a treasured memory. Each of you has brought something unique and special to our class, and I'm grateful for the laughter, support, and countless inside jokes that have defined our time together. You are not just friends; you are family, and I cherish each of you deeply.

As we embark on new paths, let's not forget the bond we've built. May we continue to lift each other up and create even more memories in the years to come. Here's to friendship, growth, and the exciting adventures that lie ahead!

Long live Historieans.

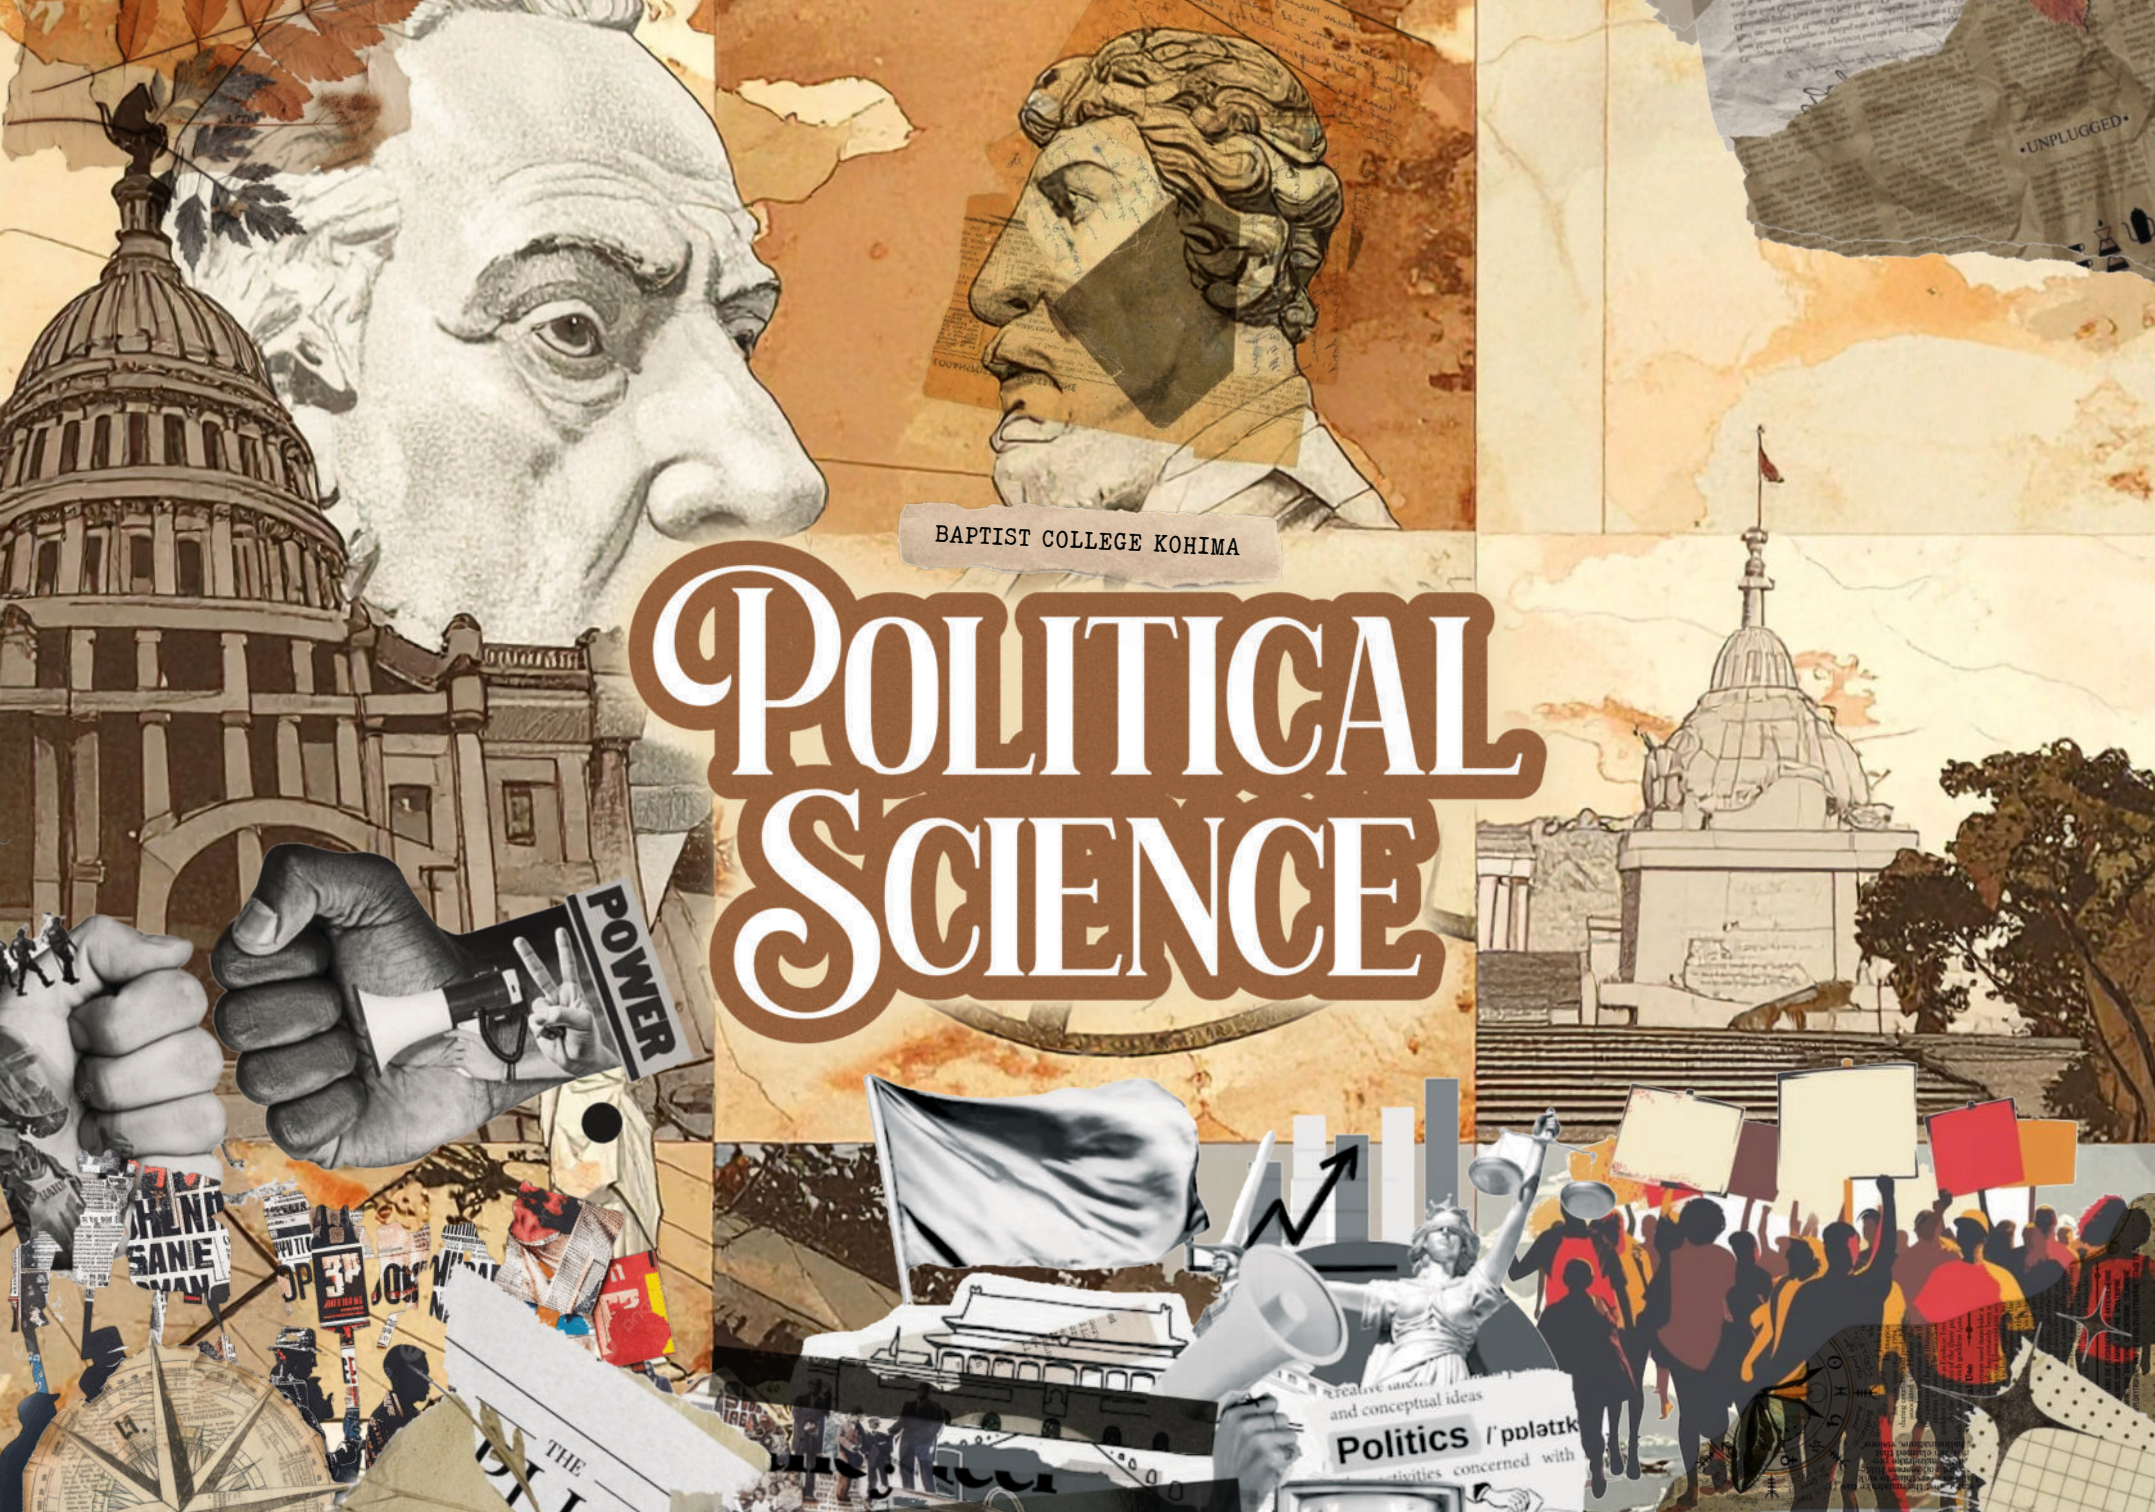

With love and gratitude,

“Soaring isn’t about having all the answers.
It’s about continuing to grow, to stay curious, and to lift others as you rise.”

Message from the HoD

Dear Graduates,

Today marks more than just the end of your degree—it marks the beginning of your ascent. You’ve studied hard, grown wiser, formed lasting friendships, and overcome challenges that tested your strength. Now, it’s time to ‘Soar’.

To soar means to rise beyond limitations. It means trusting your wings—the knowledge you’ve gained, the values you’ve acquired, and the dreams you’ve dared to believe in. You’ve walked through challenges, grown through experiences, and now, you’re ready to rise. Graduation isn’t an end—it’s the beginning of flight. You are no longer bound by classroom walls or daily routines. The sky is vast, your wings are ready, and your dreams are the wind beneath them.

As you step into new roles—whether as professionals, entrepreneurs, researchers, creators, or leaders—remember: Soaring isn’t about having all the answers. It’s about continuing to grow, to stay curious, and to lift others as you rise. Soar—not just in your careers, but in your purpose. Soar with kindness, courage, and curiosity. Rise above fear. Chase what sets your soul on fire. Remember, soaring isn’t always about speed or height; sometimes it’s about grace, resilience, and knowing when to glide and when to dive.

So dream big, stay grounded in your values, and take flight with courage. As you leave this nest, know that you carry with you the strength of your journey, the support of those who believe in you and the promise of a future only you can shape. Let your life be your message. Let your journey inspire others. And when the winds get strong, let them carry you higher.

We are so proud of you, and we can’t wait to see how far you’ll fly.

Congratulations, Batch of 2022-2025.
Go forth and ‘SOAR’.

With pride, hope, admiration and best wishes,

L. Thsidelong Sangtam

Whenever I come late for the morning classes, I lied that I was stuck in traffic, but the truth is I wake up late. Kekhriesilhou Lhousa

I pretend to be actively listening to the lecture but I'm dreaming instead. Kekrongol Kotso

Attending classes not for lectures but for attendance. Kelevinuo Mere

I had a deep crush on one of our lecturer, Miss Imtisenla, but I could not reveal it so I just kept showing signs. Ketoukhriezo Suokhrie

I used to promise myself at the start of every semester that this time I would attend all the classes regularly and stay ahead of all the syllabus, but life always had different plans. Kevielhou Koza

I heard all my classmates are toxic. Kevis Pucho

When Justin Bieber's music comes on, I can't resist but dance. Kezevilie

I know I tell you to "post your content" but sometimes I wonder if you have watched or listened to it before you post it. Khiti Kath

I'm the real Gabbar. Khriehuzo Kense

Told my teacher I was present, when I was actually absent. Khumpise T. Sangtam

I walked into room 10 one morning, switched on the light, and accidentally caught a couple. Kihitoli A. Kiho

I gotta admit, I don't like my classmates at all, very cringe, not funny and overacting (but not all) I cannot wait for graduation day because I would be completely free. Kihola Yimchunger

I had a crush on a guy only to find out my friend liked him too, so I had to compromise and let her keep crushing on him (btw this was in highschool). Kithetoli Yeptho

I like sleeping so much that everybody thought that I was in a coma. Kiuthsangla Z

I don't listen. I judge. Kowu Thele

Struggling with my sleepy head in every class. Kuthonolu Kotso

When I come late for my classes, I always make up excuses which are not true. Laiyu M

When my friends recommend a film, I'd watch the trailer and pretend to have seen the whole thing, sharing my thoughts on the movie, trying to sound convincing. Lemtishe M. Tikhir

That one friend who had best class notes but never attended a single lecture. Lensuba

I force my friends to bunk classes. Lhousituo Yono

Attending classes just for attendance is not a joke. Liki Swu

No judgement here, but we've noticed some ladies are rocking the 'two tone' look – flawless face, and a neck that's just like, 'Hey, I'm over here, being my natural self!' Liki L. Zhimo

My friends and I have mastered the art of instantly falling asleep inside the class, by covering our faces with our hands, whenever the teacher tell us to study. Limeka Achumi

I listen to my friends when they tell me not to bunk the classes, but I still bunk classes. Longtichem Rudy Thonger

I pretend to listen in class, but sometimes I don't understand anything. Lonwang Konyak

I stay up all night doing nothing and blame lack of sleep. Lumchila

We simply say 'yes, we understand' even though we don't actually understand the topic. Lungxesü Thüvüri

They say cheaters never succeed, but I just graduated. Lütülü Keyho

My friends' inside jokes were my secret lectures. A smile here, a giggle there, I get it! Macraj Limbu

I say I'll study, but end up sleeping. I promise to submit my assignments on time, but end up rushing at the last minute. Magdalene

I appear stoic when people take advantage of me, but inwardly I can't help but wish they would experience a difficult day. Medozenuo Kengurisie

Never had the habit of attending full classes. Merichan Kikon

Still falling for Sir Seyiesilie even after he chased me out of his class for the whole semester. Mhadeno kikon

When I say my dog ate my homework, it didn't, it was my cat. Mhalevilie Rio

I pretend to write in class, but what I actually do is sleep or gossip with my friends. Mhalevinuo Sachü

I pretend to take notes in class when I am just doodling. Moala Tongsop A

Whenever admission season comes, I ask extra money from my parents.
Mughatoli Zhimomi

I go to college, but sometimes I don't reach the college. Mulai

I attend class only for attendance. Neibeizo Rio

"I listen and I judge". Neikethozo Dzeyie

I nod enthusiastically during lectures, but I'm secretly planning a weekend adventure. Neikuloü Lasuh

I'm batman. Nieputhuozo Miachieo

I have seen many love stories but there's no true love in my department.
Niraj Gupta

I once waved back at someone who wasn't waving at me and pretended I was swatting a fly. Nukuve Tenenu

I once unintentionally tore my friend's leave note so he had to show the half-torn leave note to the teachers. Nupatovi Achumi

I've hidden snacks from my family and then acted surprised when they couldn't find it. Nuvelu Nyekha

Pretending to read inside the class by resting my elbows on the book and covering my eyes with my hands while I am actually sleeping.
Ongmang Angku

One time my friends and I went to a shop during our college break, we picked up chocolates and sweets feeling rich until I checked my bank account. It was so low that even the ATM would've laughed at me.
Opantila S. Ao

Asking extra money from parents for backlog. Phamchik Konyak

I pretend to listen when the lecturers are explaining. Phyobemo Kikon

We listen to their love affairs but we don't judge. Prakash Kumar

Why do we bring the younger ones who appear tall and mature to the office? He did save me from a week long suspension. Qhekiho Sumi

Turns out attendance is negotiable sometimes or at least I can convince my teacher (Miss Imti) that I was present when in reality I was not.
Roling Y. Sangtam

I once peed in the swimming pool when I was a kid.
Rongsentula Walling

Want to get 80% of attendance but don't want to attend class. Bunking class gives chills! Rozidi T. Sangtam

I've Googled my own name just to see if I'm secretly famous.
Ruovisielie Shüya

College ask for 75% attendance but won't even finish 75% of the syllabus.
Ruvelu Medeo

I slap my friend's head every morning as a way to wish him good morning.
Sampai M

Dear friends, remember the day we were supposed to go to the night carnival and I said I couldn't join due to some work. I was actually out with my Gf! Samuel Zhimomi

I always respond for my friend during attendance because her voice is not audible enough. Setsülü Yhobü

I secretly took my mom's Dior lipstick and lost it. She spent a whole week searching for it. Sevovelu Rhakho

Sometimes I tell my parents I'm heading to the library but I actually go somewhere else, like Highland Park, to have some fun. Seyienuo Chietsü

I made up crazy scenarios in my head about me being a superhero and soon my power will be handed over to me at a certain age and I might be asked to protect the world. Sonam Gupta

Sometimes it's annoying when people act like they're always right, even when they are clearly wrong. Sulanbeni R. Ovung

I once pretended to take notes in class but I was actually just doodling the whole time. Sunnio P

Lookalike : They say Prim chanikarn (primilly)

Class stories : Miss Imti says 'This will be a short lecture' but somehow it never was. And then there's Sir Seyiesilie's question and answer session, so intense that I can barely breathe. The tension in the room? Stronger than my will to study. Avoiding eye contact? Completely useless.

Mejor Juntas

Who knew that strangers, lost in a crowd,
Would find each other and laugh so loud?
From that first camp, unsure and new,
To a bond so strong, we never outgrew.

Bunking classes just to cook and eat,
Sneaking away for a little retreat.
Getting punished, side by side,
Yet somehow, even that felt right.

Saving up our pocket money,
Just to hang out—felt so funny.
Now those days, so simple and small,
Are the memories we cherish most of all.

From loudspeakers, wild and free,
To quiet goodbyes we didn't see.
Who knew a name, a joke at the start,
Would stay with us, etched in the heart?

Once a Juntas, always a Juntas,
Through distance and time.

T'was an old life's route beside,
Ridden alongside a new journey's stride.
A route of struggles to find home,
To the baffling colab of the blend towards home.

The awaited trails invited realisations profound,
That all things were colourful, unique and around.
Whispers from within of a short journey's pace,
Minutes ticked like hours sophisticatedly and simply a long winding space.

An extended strand, woven with care,
From celebrations to turbulent times, and all that's shared.
Surpassed moments in between, before and after,
Shaped my, "Momentous cycle of three years".

Hands that came with many foundations strong,
Helped fill my journey, right where I belonged.

Dream, dream, but don't let your dream become a dream

As a final year student, this quote reminds me not just to be imagined but to be pursued with action and determination. Our time in college has taught us that while dreaming big is important, working hard to make those dreams real is what truly matters.

Let's step into the next chapter of life with the courage to chase our dreams fearlessly. Grateful to all the teachers and friends who made this journey memorable.

Wishing everyone success and happiness ahead!

A Glimmer of Hope

Life is fading in this unfamiliar way
Walking in a dark tunnel, life's at rock bottom's cliff
Holding up this cruel, dreadful day alone
Don't have any map to tell whether this road is right
Been through in a maze, never want to go back to Wondering around with exhausted wings of passion temporarily folded Covering the sky called hope,

with the hands of others besides me
Finding out where the exit is, to be saved from being locked in darkness
Frantically try to run away,
lighting up the dark road ahead.

Dear classmates, as we prepare to go our separate ways, I am filled with gratitude for each and everyone of you. Whether we were close or just acquaintances, you all contributed to my growth and memories. You've been an amazing group of classmates and friends. I will always treasure our time together. Best wishes for the future! Keep in touch!!

The Tiny Life

In the vast expanse of this world, we are but tiny, fleeting figures. We often feel as though we know many people, yet no one truly knows us. We are mere passersby on a journey, one that inevitably leads to death, leaving behind unfinished stories, untold wisdom, and unanswered questions. Despite the connections we form, the world doesn't truly understand who we are.

Life is a journey—one filled with joy and sorrow, success and failure, struggles and moments of peace. It's a path of constant twists, and along the way, we are shaped by the experiences we face. Each challenge, whether big or small, helps us grow, pushing us to become more resilient and wise. While hardships may leave scars, they also offer valuable lessons, teaching us to bend without breaking.

But it's important to remember that failure and disappointment are just part of the human experience. They remind us of our limitations, but also provide us with opportunities to rise stronger, more humble, and more determined. Life's unpredictability is what makes it beautiful, and in the end, it's our own journey to live, so live it for yourself, not for the expectations of others.

Even if the world may never fully understand who we are, or even recognize our worth, it's important to try to do good while we can. Each act of kindness, every effort to be a better person, ripples out in ways we may never see. And perhaps, in time, the tiny life we live though seemingly unnoticed, will leave a legacy that echoes, and be remembered for the positive impact we made. Whether or not the world knows our name, our actions will speak for us.

In the end, whether we leave behind grand achievements or small moments of meaning, it's our legacy that speaks for itself. What we do, how we live, and the way we impact others creates an imprint that remains long after we're gone. So live fully, embrace every lesson, and remember: your life is yours to shape, and your legacy will tell the story of who you truly were.

Declaration of those five individuals personality/types

Let's start with John Cena (langchet), who exudes confidence, particularly when it comes to his height. According to him, his grandparents hail from the Netherlands.

Next up is Mr. Konyak (Lonwang), who cleverly deflects insults about his accent by poking fun at his own tribe's accents, which he ironically speaks fluently. He's also famous for saying, 'Honeshey!! Bus phara nai roo,' whenever we gather.

Then there's the 49 AC MLA (actually from 50 AC/Leitin Bangtük), who's more bold than meets the eye. You might even spot him at the Oking hospital, where he occasionally pops in to use the restroom.

Last but not least, there's Tagore (Awen), who always seems to be at odds with the sky, even on beautiful days. And then there's Shadow Hunter (Bongai), who appears foolish at first but has secretly been preparing for the NPSC exam.

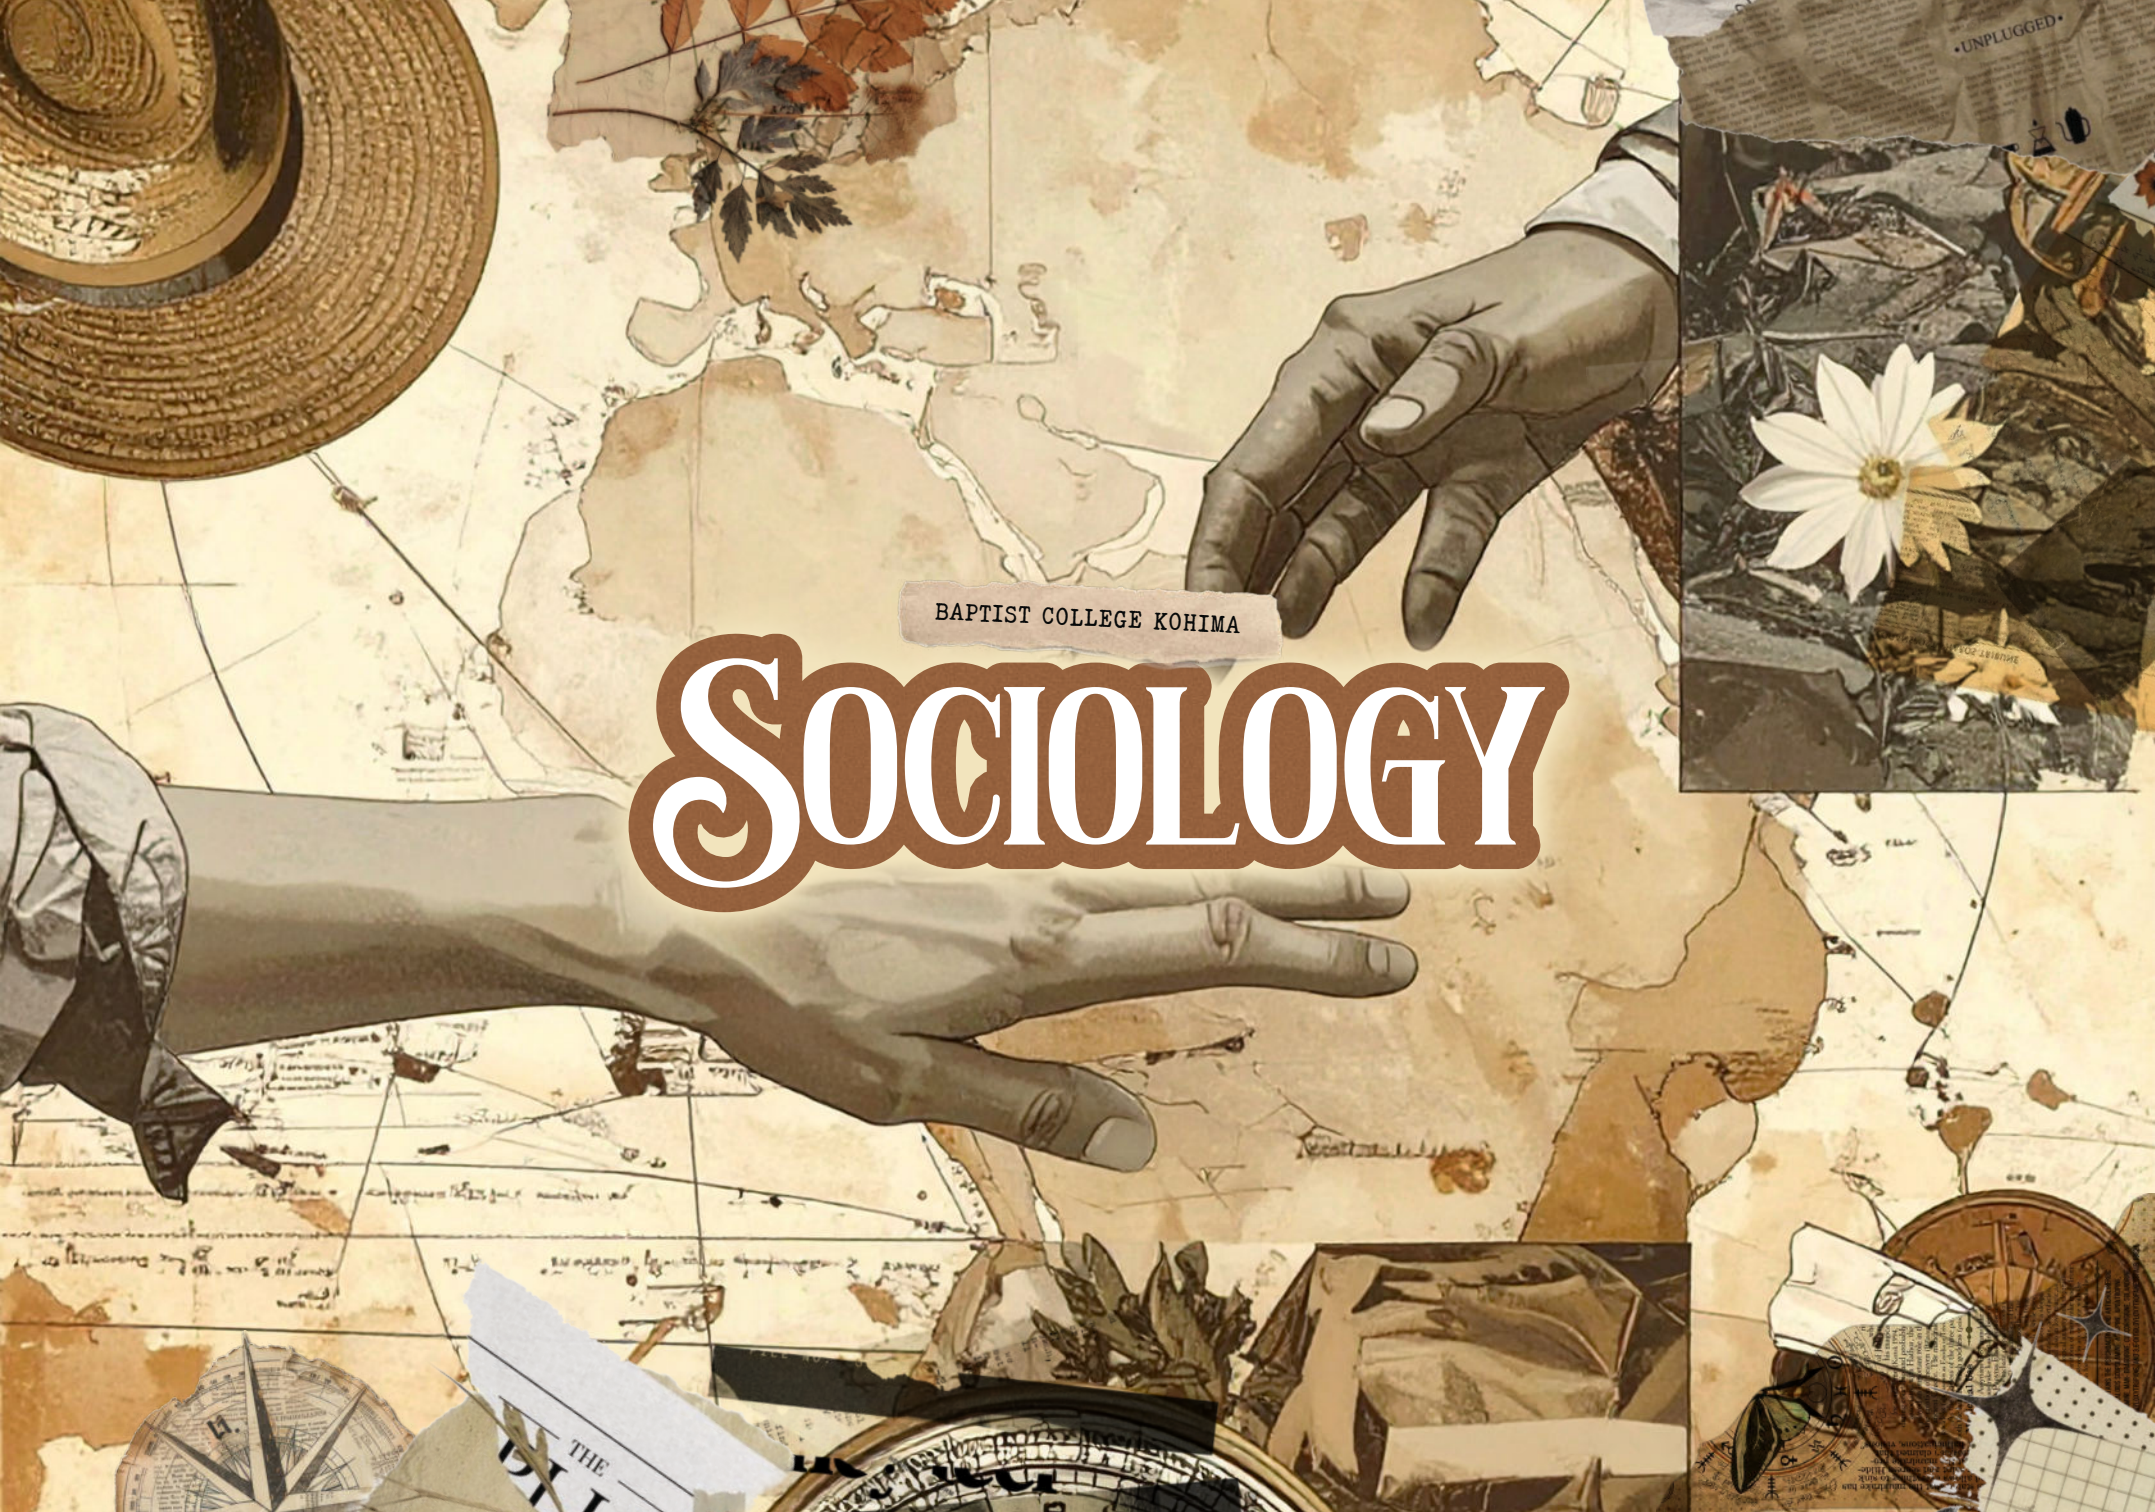

However, it's undeniable that it's all of you who made our college life truly special.

Message from the HoD

Getting here wasn't always easy. There were late nights fueled by coffee, challenging exams that seemed impossible, and moments where you doubted whether you could keep going. But you did. You persevered, you learned, you grew, and you emerged stronger. This graduation isn't just the end of a chapter – it's the celebration of your resilience, your hard work, and your dedication.

And today, you're entering a world brimming with opportunities. Go out there, chase your dreams, and make a difference. The future is yours to create.

Congratulations Class of 2025!

Message TO YOUR future self

Keep learning, stay curious, and don't forget to enjoy the journey!
Aholi Swu

I hope you're doing well and staying true to yourself. Right now, I have dreams, goals, and maybe a few doubts. I know life won't always be easy, but I hope you've learned to be patient and keep pushing forward. Alolito Awomi

As you look back on the journey that has brought you to this moment, remember to be proud of yourself. You've worked hard, persevered through challenges, and grown into a stronger, wiser version of yourself. Alongla Sangtam

Believe in yourself, have faith in your abilities, and keep going.
Angel T

You're doing great. Keep it up. Be grateful. Be respectful. And keep pushing yourself. Angukato Chophy

Remember that no matter how hard things may seem, it's important to keep going, life is full of ups and downs, but it's us who will persist through the times that achieve happiness. Believe in yourself, have faith in our abilities, and keep going. Arhoji Ngouri

Remember to stay true to yourself, your value and your passions, don't be afraid to take risks, challenge yourself and pursue new opportunities.

Asilenthong

Congratulations on making this far. Don't be hard on yourself when you encounter setbacks or challenges. Instead learn from your mistakes and use those as opportunities for growth. Remember to take breaks, practice physical and mental health. Avila P. Sangtam

I hope you've grown in ways that matter, wiser and kinder. I hope you still dream big. Don't forget how far you've come, the battles you've fought silently, the nights you stayed up wondering if you were enough and still showed up the next day. Life may not be perfect but I hope it's real, full of moments that make your heart feel alive. Keep going. B. Nyimang Naro

Trust the process. You're growing everyday. Bisajungla Sangtam

As you move forward, remember that vulnerability is a strength, yet it's okay to set boundaries to protect your heart. Chonbeni O Yanthan

As you read this, I hope that you are doing well and making progress towards your goal. Remember that no matter how hard things may seem, it's important to keep going. And most importantly, please love yourself and be kind to yourself. Chumei Phom

I hope you're smiling as you read this. I just wanted to remind you of everything you once dreamed about, everything you once fought for, and everything you loved deeply. I know life might have taken twists you didn't expect but I trust that you kept your heart open, your mind strong, and your spirit wild. Don't forget why you started. Be proud of how far you've come. And if today feels heavy, remember: you've survived every other hard day so far. Keep going. I believe in you. Deepa Sonar

I hope this finds you well. I hope you didn't give up and that everything worked out in the end. Keep pushing, I'm proud of you and I'm sorry for all the mistakes I'm going to make it. Imtizulu Jamir

I hope you're doing well. Life right now is a mixture of dreams, struggle and little victories, and I wonder how far you've come. Have you grown into the person we hope to be? No matter what, don't stop hustling. Basketball taught us resilience, discipline and a power of never giving up. Keep believing in yourself, stay kind, stay curious. be the kind of player who makes everyone around you better. Stay humble, and always lead with generosity. The real victory isn't just in what you achieve, but in how you inspire and lift others alone the way. Kabila Rangnamai

Step out of your comfort zone and embrace new challenges. Kayia Nayak

I want you to remember that you've survived the worst of situation and won numerous endless battles all by yourself without any helping hand so every time you fall and couldn't find your way back, gather the Strength, fix your bones, rise and face with your full power because you know that you had never lost till date. Kekhriesenuo Peya

I hope you have accomplished everything you wanted to and made good memories over the years with your dear and love ones you have. Learn, try, fail, do it all, because you never know what will happen unless you try. Stay positive. I'm proud of you, take care, Wishing you all the best in your endeavours. Keneiseno Savino

I remind myself to stay curious, keep exploring, and never lose sight of my passions as I stand at the threshold of this new chapter. To my future self, I say: Stay true and keep shining. Kesogi Semp

I am filled with excitement and anticipation for the incredible journey that is ahead. Remember to be kind to yourself and others. Never give up on your dreams even when the road gets tough. Keep exploring, learning and growing. Never stop chasing your passions and interest. And always make time for love, laughter and adventure. I know that life won't always be easy but have faith in yourself.

Kümsesü Thüvüri

If things are tough don't give up. You've overcome challenges before, and you will again. If things are going great take a moment to appreciate it.

Kimiyetoli Swu

Keep pushing and remember to enjoy the journey. You've got this!

Kumughaka Sumi

I hope you are smiling as you read this. Right now, I'm working hard learning, growing and figuring things out one step at a time. I wonder what life looks like for you –what dream you've chased, what challenges you've conquered and what lesson you've embraced. Langkhang S

Keep chasing the things that set your soul on fire. You've come so far—don't forget the strength it took to get here. Lashikhung S. Khiungru

Remember who got you to where you are today. Lenyühunuo Kire

I hope by now you've left behind the life I'm living today—the doubts, the worries, and the things that no longer serve you. I want you to be brave enough to break free from what's holding you back and build a life that truly makes you happy. Please choose growth, peace, and joy over comfort or fear. You deserve better, and I know you have the strength to make it happen. Licheu Kronu

I know you're doing the best you can, I believe in you. Keep going.

Mengutuonuo Solo

Remember the hustle, stay true to your values, and never stop learning.

Meyievi Pucho

More than just professional growth, I hope you've also nurtured meaningful relationships, taken care of your wellbeing, and found balance in your life. Success isn't just about achievements, it's about happiness, peace, and making a difference in the lives of others. Keep believing in yourself, because

I do. Michael Lotha

Don't worry about doing it well: just do it. Mutsilü Yhobü

I hope you've grown in wisdom, love, and faith. Life may not have gone exactly as planned, but remember—that's okay.

You've faced challenges, but you've also seen God's faithfulness in ways you never expected. No matter where you are now, keep trusting that his plan is greater than yours. Keep, choosing faith over fear, gratitude over worry and love over bitterness. You are stronger than you think, not because of your own strength, but because of the one who walks with you.

Keep going. Keep believing. The best is yet to come. Neisakhonuo

If you're still figuring it all out – same. High five from the past. Nikil Chetri

I hope you take risk and still end up happy, no matter what happen in the end. I hope you lost as well as found something new. I hope you are happy with your choices, your goals as well as failures. Phyobeni Y. Kikon

Remember the hustle, the passion for knowledge, value of genuine connection. Keep striving for growth, happiness, and a life filled with purpose. Remember to be kind to yourself and others. Puspa Khawas

Stay true to your values, pursue your passion and never stop growing.

Rufulu Rhakho

My College experience

THE SAME WITHOUT...

Great friends, inspiring professors, and unforgettable moments of growth.

Aholi Swu

My best friends, the conversations, laughter, and memories we shared made college unforgettable. And the guidance, support, and encouragement of my teachers helped me grow academically and personally. Alongla Sangtam

The amazing friends and professors who became family. Skipping classes seems to be the best memories we ever created. Angel T

The feeling of being part of a community that was supportive and inclusive. Angukato Chophy

The Friends I made, the challenges I overcome and the opportunities I pursued. College life is one where you should enjoy every moment from good to worst because once gone only regrets remains at the end and it is the best time when you will learn about life. Arhoji Ngouri

The friendship that turned into family, the challenges that shaped my resilience, and the countless moments of laughter and late-night conversation. College wasn't just about education it was about the people and experience that made it unforgettable. Asilenthong

My best friend and the conversation, laughter, and memories we shared together made college unforgettable. Avila P. Sangtam

The friendships I made and the challenges that pushed me beyond my comfort zone. B. Nyimang Naro

My girls and my friendly lecturers who make every day memorable. Bisajungla Sangtam

The chaos of last, minute assignments, the inside jokes that made even the duller lectures bearable, and friendship that turned strangers into family. It was a mix of deadlines and daydreams, stress and laughter, deep conversations and mindless fun. Between hurried notes, and long-winded discussions, college became more than a place it became a feeling. A feeling of growth of learning and of figuring things out. Thus, it's not the grades or the syllabus I'll remember most, it's the people, the experiences and the countless stories that made this chapter of life unforgettable. Chonbeni O Yanthan

Without my interesting, wonderful, different kind of personalities classmates. Chumei Phom

The late-night talks, the unexpected friendships, the failures that taught me resilience, and the moments of pure, chaotic joy the experience been a CR and holding the badge for more than fourth semesters that reminded me I was alive. Without the people who believed in me when I couldn't believe in myself. Without the risks I took, the mistakes I made, and the growth that came from every single step. Deepa Sonar

The incredible friend I made, who supported me through every challenge and celebrated every success with me. Kabila Rangnamai

The unique blend of academic rigor, social connections and personal growth including the friendship and the opportunities discovered. Kayia Nayak

The lifelong friendships I formed, the priceless mentorship from professors, and the countless opportunities to explore my passions and interests outside of the classroom. These experiences not only shaped my academic and professional pursuits but also helped me grow as a person, develop important life skills and create unforgettable memories. Kekhriesenuo Peya

The unique friendship with my mates who are always there for me in good and bad times in my career; the enamored lectures/ staff who are always there and ready to help and care for me, the encountering challenges which inspired me to learn and grow (intellectually and personally) and the experiences I had enjoyed outside and inside of the classroom, will always be cherished in my mind in days to come.

Keneiseno Savino

The incredible friendships I formed, the late-night study sessions to spontaneous adventures, and my friends made every moment unforgettable. Kesogi Semp

My professors who inspired and guide me in shaping and moulding and my friends, who became my family away from home, and family's unwavering support and encouragement.
Kümsesü Thüvüri

My friends who never deny on skipping classes but who always agree. Skipping classes almost became a habit. We sure may not have learnt much but we made great memories. Kimiyetoli Swu

My friends and all the memories we made together during the tough and fun times. Kumughaka Sumi

The amazing friends, unforgettable experience, late night study sessions, unexpected challenges and the little moment that made it all special. Every experience has shaped me who am I today. Langkhang S

The people who stood by me—friends who became family, late-night talks, spontaneous plans, and all the shared laughter and chaos in between.

Lenyühunuo Kire

My amazing friends, inspiring professors, and the challenging moments that shaped me. Licheu Kronu

My best friends, who somehow made skipping class look like a team sport. We may not have learned much, but we sure made some great memories. Mengutuonuo Solo

My friends and lecturers. Meyievi Pucho

My friends. They played a huge role in making these years unforgettable. From the very first day, we bonded over shared experiences, struggling with assignments, last minute exam preparation, and, so of course, the fun moments that made college so special. One of the most cherished memories we created together was bunking classes. It wasn't just about skipping classes it was about the thrill of doing something rebellious yet harmless. Looking back, it's not just the lectures or assignments that define my college journey. It's the friendship, the mischief, and countless stories we created together. Michael Lotha

College anxiety is real. The pressure to succeed and the fear of failure can be overwhelming. Let's talk about it.

Alongla Sangtam

I lied about attending classes when most of the time I skip it.

Angel T

I got to my final year with only caffeine and luck.

Angukato Chophy

I don't usually read much on the material that lectures provide us. I browse YouTube or Chat GPT for answers.

Arhoji Ngouri

I can't keep up with all the assignments, and I feel like I'm failing. I don't want anyone to know how bad I'm at managing everything.

Asilenthong

I act like I'm listening to teacher's lecture but I'm minding my own business imagining things. Avila P. Sangtam

I say "on my way" while still lying in bed. B. Nyimang Naro

I set 10 alarms and still miss my morning class. Bisajungla Sangtam

In my first semester I encountered my first college crush and foolishly started following him like a fool. Looking back, it's hilarious.

Chonbeni O. Yanthan

I skipped quite a few classes especially the last period just because I was craving Poori matar and chai. Chumei Phom

I still carry my favorite sweets and chocolates in my blazer pockets. People see a senior, but inside, I'm still just a kid who is scared to say goodbye.

Unless you voluntarily sit in the front row. That's suspicious behaviour. Nikil Chetri

Sometimes when I don't understand what's happening during explanations, I watch mukbang videos and drip my saliva out. Phyobeni Y. Kikon

Physically present in classroom but mentally not. Puspa Khawas

The only way I can concentrate during lecture is by making fake scenario in my head. Rufulu Rhakho

Sometimes when our lectures think I'm taking notes, I am actually drawing something else on my note book. Rukuzholu Swuro

I let my brother do my assignment which are out of my capability. Ruokuosenuo

The art of pretending to listen to lectures inside the class while scrolling Instagram reels. Senülü Chüzho

Crawling my way to the end of this semester. Seopila

I let my brother do my work which are out of my capability. Shürhizekhono

I once tried to eat chips quickly, but the whole class heard the bag crinkling and the teacher gave the look. Sizila Sangtam

All my assignments from 1st semester - 6th semester was done through chat GPT. So basically, chat GPT did my assignments. Thejakhrielie Kelelie

I'm feeling anxious about graduating and entering the real world. I'm not sure if I'm ready or if I have the skills to succeed. Therola

I pretend I'm a morning person, spoiler I'm not. Topivi Achumi

I may look innocent, but I like watching BL dramas. Toshienla Jamir

My brain is 90% procrastination and 10% I'll do it tomorrow. Veluto D. Vadeo

I lied in my leave note saying I was sick, but when I almost got caught, I panicked and started coughing like I had a cold. Vendilenle Yim

If comfort is a crime, then yes - my pants are unbuttoned in class. I'm just a girl. Veneralü Kezo

I wrote, I erased, I rewrote. Vikuonuo Kuotsu

I act like I don't care, but if you don't text me back in 5 minutes, I start questioning our friendship. Wepu Mero

I purposely don't carry a notebook and a pen when we are in a class so that if someone asks later, I say I don't know. Yemlong Chaba N

I have a crush on my professor (Sir Kevi). Zesangsü Thuer

Adding salt in my sibling's tea to get back at them. Zilila S

Phoenix Rising

From ashes of heartbreak and pain,
I rose, a phoenix, reborn again.
Through flames of sorrow, I walked the night,
And emerged, transformed, in morning's light.

My college days, a bittersweet refrain,
Echoes of laughter, tears, and heartache's strain.
I lost my dad, my guiding light,
And my dear sis, my shining star in the night.

Their memories stay, a bittersweet pain,
But in the darkness, a spark remained.
A spark of hope, a flame of might,
Guided me through the blackest night.

I found strength in weakness, courage in fear,
And rose, a phoenix, from the ashes clear.
My wings, once broken, now soar with pride,
My heart, once shattered, now healed inside.

I've walked through fire, and emerged anew,
A phoenix rising, with a story to break through.
With every scar, a story to unleash,
From heartbreak to hope, rise like a phoenix.

A Soulful Tie

A true friend is a treasure rare,
A gem that shines, beyond compare.
With every step, with every test,
Our friendship grows and forever best.

A thread of trust, a cord of love,
A bond between us, sent from above.
Time and space may test our bond,
But true friendship will forever beyond.

A heart that listens, a soul that cares,
A bond that's strong, through laughter and tears.
We lift each other up, when one is down,
And celebrate each triumph, in this friendship town.

A true friend stands, through thick and thin,
A tracks of support, where love and trust win.
Sa here's to our friendship, a treasure rare,
A gift that's precious, and one we'll always share.

The Whispers of College Memories

Halls of learning, where I grew,
Memories of laughter, and dreams anew.
The struggles, the triumphs, the tears and the cheers,
All etched in memory, through all the years.

Professors guidance and mentors Care,
Shaped my mind and helped me share.
The memories of growth, of discovery and might,
The whispers of college, that shines with delight.

College days a chapter in my past,
A foundation built, that will forever last.
From classrooms to canteens and beyond,
Memories of college, forever to be fond.

Though I've moved on, to new paths and places,
Memories of college, will forever hold their spaces.
In the stillness, I hear the whisper clear,
Reminding me of moments, that I hold dear.

Message

My dear students,

As your journey comes to an end as a student of this beautiful college, I would like to share a few thoughts. As I write this message I am wondering what's going through your mind... maybe excited for the parting social at the same time a little bit tensed for the end semester exam. Just as we welcome you on fresher's day, we also bid farewell to you.

As a student, you all look towards college activities such as fresher's day, college week and parting social. You have your share of good and bad memories. No matter what, these eventually becomes part of your college memories. Now that you are about to graduate, the question of 'What next' will pop out? I am pretty sure that by now you must have made a decision and ready with your next move. You must also have heard over and over again from your teachers, parents, mentors and elders that HSLC and HSSLC exams are crucial for your academic future and professional path. Yes they are, but let me tell you that your bachelor's degree is equally important as it enhances career opportunities, increase earning potential and also offer broader skill set. And not forgetting it has become the minimum educational requirement for many jobs, especially competitive exams.

I would like to remind you that real life begins after graduation. You will face the real world where life is no longer a bed of roses but full of problems and challenges. Let me put it this way, life after graduation is like opening a 'Pandora's Box', filled with many unforeseen problems and unpredictable outcomes. I don't mean to discourage you but prepare you to face the obstacles. Remember there is no problem that cannot be solved or challenges that cannot be defeated. All you need to do is be optimistic and stay focused.

I want you to remember that the journey to a milestone can only be successful if it is fueled by hunger, passion, determination and focus. Be a person who is hungry for success. Be passionate at what you are doing and always give your best. Be determined and don't give up on your dreams. Concentrate on your goal and stay on track to achieve your goal. A wise man once said "success is when opportunity meets preparedness." Last but not the least, be sincere in everything you do. Be fearless, truthful and honest in your thought and action. And above all, put your trust in God.

“Be passionate at what you are doing and always give your best. Be determined and don't give up on your dreams.”

Message TO YOUR future self

I hope you still count your blessings everyday. And remember, life's too short to tone it down. Be your realest, weirdest and most ridiculous self. T'is what your early 20's wished for.

Keneilhoubeinu Gwirie

You're doing amazing! Keep going, even when it's hard at times. The little things you do today will come in great reward tomorrow. Don't be too harsh on yourself. Put God first and trust the process. Khrohino Meyase

It is what it is; I hope you are grateful for where you are. Haha!! Do what excites you. Neivolhoulie Dzüvichü

I hope you are happy and proud of how far you've come. Keep believing in yourself and stay kind. No matter what life throws at you, remember you've overcome so much already. Stay true to your dreams, cherish the little moments and enjoy the journey. You've got this. Philo-u Thopi

Keep being kind and enjoy the little things in life.
Rokolhounuo

There will be lots of ups and downs in life but don't you give up. Selena Kerketta

I'm incredibly proud of you! You have been doing great! Look at you; you're tired but you ain't giving up Stay strong, you can handle it. Be kind, be humble, be respectful and enjoy life.
Yavikhoü

Trust the journey and embrace the growth. College is about finding yourself, but also finding lifelong friends. Kikruzhanuo Rhatsu

No matter where life takes you, stay disciplined, focused and never stop growing. Success starts with self control. John Pungriso

I hope you've reached the heights you always believed you could and hopefully more. Medongulie Rhitso

Dear future, I know you're doing the best you can. I believe in you. Keep going. Menuosenuo Mezhü

You have nothing to regret as you have come so far. Neizovonuo Naprantsu

Be happy in life, do what makes you happy. Express and impress yourself, not others. Life is better when you are happy. So take risks, grab opportunities, meet new people and make a difference in the world. Remember that you are valued and important. Make the right choice to be happy. Sinile Jasü

As you look back on the progress you've made, be proud of the positive impact you've had on those who have interacted with you. Know that you are making a difference, one conversation at a time. Thejavino Sirie

I hope this message finds you thriving, happy and fulfilled. As you look back on the journey that has brought you this far, remember to be proud of yourself for all that you have accomplished. Don't be too harsh on yourself; celebrate the lessons you've learned over the years. Stay true to yourself and your values. Diethono Meyase

I hope you are doing well and have stayed true to the goals we set out to achieve. I hope you've learned and grown from every challenge. Are you still passionate about what we used to be? Did we get where we wanted to be? If not, that's okay too. Sometimes the journey takes us to unexpected directions. Just keep learning, keep evolving and living with intention. Kevisanuo Medoze

Wherever you are now, I trust you are exactly where you need to be.
Khrielhousieno Khawakhrie

Take a deep breath, enjoy the present and whatever challenges that comes your way. You have handles tougher times before, you can do them better again. Vikhono Zhünyü

I don't know where you are now, but I hope you are happy, stronger and wiser. Whatever you are going through, remember how far you've come. Stay true to yourself, don't let fear or doubt hold you back and most importantly, don't forget to enjoy the little moments. I believe in you. Keep going..!! Vimeyieno Kera

There's this little girl who in her grade three almost blasted out when she swallowed a bone of fish (at that moment she promised to never lay her hands on any kind of fish). Until she was in grade five, she visited her relatives who cooked fish for dinner. Out of politeness, she tried to eat it but when she took the first bite, a little sharp bone got stuck in her throat. Till date, this little girl who is no longer little refuses to eat fish (her rival) just because she doesn't know how to pick out its bones.

My College Experience

Warm Greetings to you all.

Here are few lines that I want to share about my experience in this college. When I first stepped into this campus, I had no idea what to expect as this college was never on my list, I was both excited and scared of what lies ahead. College seemed like a whole new world-with new people, new challenges, and the endless opportunities. Looking back, I realized just how transformative these (3)three years have been.

One of the most valuable lessons I have learned throughout my college journey is the importance of time management. I have struggled managing my time especially in the first semester. Balancing personal time, assignments, adjusting to the independent college life and dealing with the extra curricular activities, it felt overwhelming yet as time passed by I have learned to find my balance and found that staying organized help me thrive and not just survive. In the classroom, I have learned to embrace challenges, asked for help when I needed it. While outside, I have discovered and learned that life does not always go on a straight path and that's okay. The lessons I have learned in moments of uncertainty and of success has helped me strive to become a better person.

College is not only about academic growth but is also about the personal transformation. I have realized of how much there is to learn not just from the lecturers but also from the peer group's and the world around. Some of the most memorable experiences were having conversations with classmates and juniors from different walks of life and learning different perspectives. These moments of connection have helped me become more open-minded and empathetic. The friendships I have built from this college have been a constant source of support and joy . From the last minute study sessions to impromptu adventures these friendships have made the ups and down of my college life much easier. It is these bond that I will cherish and treasure the most, as in the end, it is not the grades or achievements that define our college experience, but the people and the friendship we met and formed along the way. I have learned the importance of supporting one another during rough times and celebrating each other's wins and achievements .

The other thing that has made college life so rich is the involvement of the extracurricular activities. These activities have explored my passions outside the classroom, provided opportunities to build leadership skills and connect with like minded individuals .

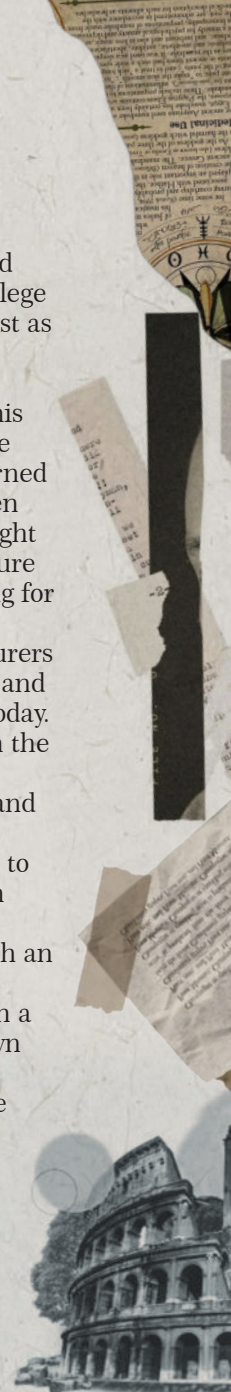

Whether it was participating in sports, engaging in college events and activities, attending camps and being an executive of the Baptist College Fellowship, I have found and learned that these experiences were just as important as my academic one. It allowed me to grow not just as a students but as a person, balancing different responsibilities and of stepping outside of my comfort zone to try and learn new things . This has developed my interests and made a lasting memories with people who share similar passions. Throughout this journey, I have also learned that failure is not something to fear but to embrace . We human often put so much pressure on ourselves to be perfect, but college has taught me that it is okay to stumble and fail sometimes. As it is through failure we find our resilience, our creativity, and determination to keep going for our goals. As I reflect on my time here, I feel incredibly grateful and blessed. I am grateful for the knowledge I have gained from the lecturers and for the friendships that have enriched and impacted on my life, and also for the experiences that have shaped me into the person I am today.

A MESSAGE TO MY DEAR JUNIORS ; As you all are still in the middle of your journey , I wanted to encourage you all to take full advantage of everything that the college offers. Attend those events and activities that challenges you and spark your curiosity and most importantly ,build those friendships that will last a lifetime. And also to anyone who may still be figuring things out, remember that - Growth takes time.

AND TO MY DEAREST MATES ; Thank you all for being such an amazing part of this journey. Whether it was supporting each other during tough times or simply sharing laugh along the way, it has been a privilege to learn and grow alongside with each of you. We have grown together, faced challenges, celebrated wins and worked hard. I am excited to see what we all will do next. CHEERS to the memories we have created and the future we are heading.

I would also like to thank all the lecturers for their dedication, passion , and unwavering support. You all are the foundation of our success and we are truly fortunate to have you all as our guide and mentor. Thank you.

My Unexpected Journey at Baptist College, Sechü Campus: From Doubts to Destiny

If someone had told me years ago that Baptist College would become one of the most meaningful chapters of my life, I would have laughed in disbelief. Why? Because this college was never on my list. It wasn't in my plans, not even a backup option. Yet, somehow, life has a way of leading us exactly where we need to be — even when it doesn't make sense at first. Looking back now, I can confidently say that Baptist College turned out to be the best decision I never planned.

The Rocky Start: Doubts, Challenges and the Urge to Quit

My first semester felt like a storm. I stepped into an environment that was unfamiliar, surrounded by new faces, and I wasn't sure what to expect. I struggled to find my footing — both academically and emotionally. Everything felt overwhelming. I remember sitting in my room, wondering if I had made a mistake choosing this path. There were moments I genuinely thought about giving up. But something kept me going —and a big part of that was the incredible support system I didn't expect to find.

Support That Changed Everything

The professors at Baptist College, Sechii Campus were more than just educators —they were mentors, motivators, and in many ways lifelines. They noticed when I was struggling. They reached out, offered guidance, and reminded me of my potential when I had forgotten it myself. Their words weren't just academic —they were full of kindness, wisdom, and belief in me. That alone gave me strength during the toughest days.

Friendships That Felt Like Family

As the semesters passed, I began to find my rhythm—and with it, I found people who made this journey unforgettable. My classmates became more than peers. We laughed through last-minute cramming, stressed over exams, and shared countless memories in the campus. What started as simple group projects turned into deep conversations, shared struggles, and strong bonds that grew with every passing semester.

The Internship That Made It All Real

Our internship period was one of the most exciting part of college. It wasn't just about applying what we learned in the classroom—it was about exploring, growing, and having fun together. We navigated new environments, supported each other through challenges, and celebrated small wins like they were huge victories. We got closer as a group during that time, and the experience strengthened our friendship in a way nothing else could.

A Spiritual Awakening in the Final Semester

One thing I never anticipated at the start of my college journey was how much the spiritual camp would impact me. I never attended any college camps, thinking they weren't for me or that I was too busy with my personal life. But something in my heart shifted as I approached my last semester. I'm so grateful that, at the last semester, I decided to attend. That decision changed everything for me. Through this camp, I grew closer to God in ways I never expected. The teachings and experiences were life-changing. Through that experience, I realised how much I had missed by staying inside my bubble for so long. The camp brought a deeper sense of peace, purpose, and community that I had been longing for. I could truly feel God's hand in the timing of it all, showing me the importance of stepping out in faith, trusting in his plan, and embracing new opportunities. It was a reminder for me that God works in ways we can't always predict, and sometimes, the best experiences come, when we least expect them.

More Than Just a Degree

My journey at Baptist College was full of unexpected turns. I faced self-doubt, academic pressure, and emotional lows. But I also found unwavering support, true friendships, powerful spiritual growth, and unforgettable experiences. From participating in campus events, bonding over group assignments, sharing meals in the classroom, laughing until our stomach ache, and even crying together-we lived it all.

Graduating from Baptist College isn't just about receiving a degree. It's about the person I became over the years. I walked in unsure of myself, and I'm walking out with a stronger sense of who I am, what I believe, and where I'm headed.

To anyone who feels lost or unsure about where they're placed-give it time. Sometimes, the most beautiful parts of life are the ones you never planned. Baptist College may not have been my first choice, but it was undoubtedly the right one.

Seize the Future

It has been a pleasure and privilege to be a part of this college. We will not forget those years of growth, big dreams, and friendships. But now that we'll be graduating, it's a little confusing, isn't it? The road ahead feels uncertain. Opportunities aren't exactly knocking down our doors, especially here in our state. The business scene isn't the friendliest, and government jobs are limited. Plus, all the social issues going on makes it a messy place to start things off.

Still, this is our chance to do something. We don't have to sit around waiting for the stars to align. It's about jumping in with what we've got, maybe starting small, like selling something we've made or tossing ideas around with friends. Or keeping the momentum going, grabbing that next degree, chasing what gets us excited. I see people out there already doing it, building their own things, finding new ways to use what's lying around. They're not waiting for the right time, they're just going for it, we can too.

As we leave this place behind, let's hold onto that spark. The future's not some gift handed to us freely, it's our job to go seize it. Every little push, every wild idea we chase, every time we get back up after a stumble, it will all be worth it. We're not just walking away with a degree, we're stepping up to build a whole new world. So, what's your move?

In the Quiet Between the Bells

It begins, always, in the quiet. The empty classroom before the first bell rings. The sun filtering through windows on the neatly arranged desks. The whiteboard clean, waiting. That “quiet” holds promise, anticipation—because every new academic year is a blank page, and every student who walks through the door brings with them a story yet to unfold.

Now, as this chapter draws to a close, I find myself reflecting on the stories that have filled these walls over the past years—your stories. The laughter in the corridors, the anxious rustling of notes before an exam, the “quiet” determination etched into your expressions as you chased excellence—not just academically, but personally, morally, and socially. This graduating batch has witnessed tremendous change—not only within themselves, but in the world around them.

You’ve navigated uncertainty with resilience, embraced new challenges with curiosity, and found your footing with a grace far beyond your years. In your academic work, I saw creativity, originality, and an emerging voice that demanded to be heard. Education, we often say, is the lighting of a fire, not the filling of a vessel. And indeed, watching you grow has been a reminder of how transformative learning can be. You entered the school as students; you leave not only as graduates, but as thinkers, as problem-solvers, as

Of course, not every day was easy. There were setbacks, missed opportunities, and moments of doubt. But there was also recovery, effort, and growth. True education does not promise perfection—it promises perspective. The ability to look at a mistake and ask, “What can I learn from this?”

I hope you carry with you not only the knowledge you’ve gained, but the quieter lessons: the importance of listening, the strength in patience, the humility of understanding that we never stop being students. Let the pages of your life be filled not just with achievements, but with kindness, curiosity, and a constant desire to grow. So here’s to the memories—the last-minute submissions, the sports days, the events, the silent understanding shared during tough times.

These are the intangible threads that bind you together, and they will linger long after you’ve left these halls. In the quiet between the bells, another day begins. And somewhere, a new student enters a classroom, a blank notebook in hand. The cycle continues. But you, dear students, are now stepping beyond the familiar gates—not as who you were, but as who you’ve become. “Go now, for the world awaits the thunder of your steps and the brilliance of your becoming.”

Dear all, now that you have hone your knowledge it's your turn to venture out. As a teacher I have no doubt in your potentials and worth. You are more than what you think. The moment you exercise your plans, follow your passions and embark on a new chapter, I'm pretty sure that you will see things better. As long as you try you will discover a lot more. And that part, I leave to your discretion. With the little experience that I have, by virtue of advancement in years and academic pursuit, I would like to share my thoughts, if those could be of any help in your journey. Firstly, remember that mundane and ordinary things have the power to change things for good. Pause and celebrate the little achievements that comes your way. At times, things may not turn out the way we wanted and expected, but remember that there is someone weaving your story. Keep living anyway. And secondly, 'be humane,' which I believe the without it life would be blunt. I hope and pray that you will have a fruitful adventure. Bidding Thee Farewell.

My Dear Students,

As you find your way in this world, carving paths uniquely your own—I hope you will live each day with purpose and courage. Follow your heart, chase your biggest dreams with faith and embrace every moment as a gift. You will face challenges, yes—but I trust you'll face them with strength and grace. I pray that you find strength in every challenge and peace in every moment, with healing and hope in times of uncertainty, and faith to carry you through the long and difficult roads ahead. May love always find you, peace fill your soul, and with each fall, may you rise stronger, knowing you are remembered, valued, and never alone.

And when your time here becomes a memory, I hope you look back with more smiles than regrets, with peace within, and with faith for what lies ahead. You carry with you not just what you've learned in books, but the memories, friendships, and lessons that will continue to shape you. Be kind to yourself, take heart in small steps, and celebrate how far you've come. No matter where you go from here, know this—you will always have someone cheering you on from afar.

With all my love and best wishes

To my dear outgoing students,

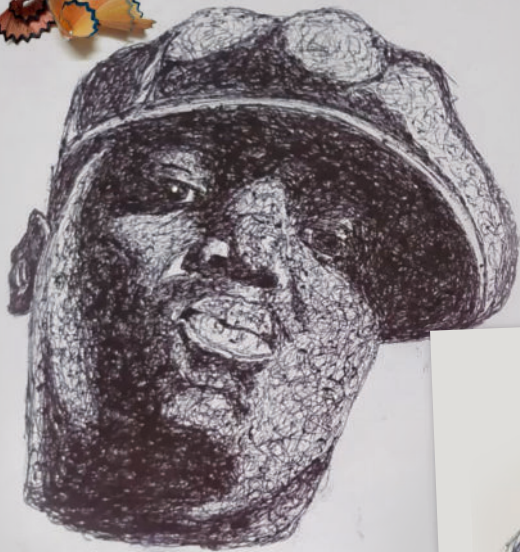

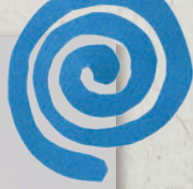

Life may not always unfold the way we imagined. There will be moments of joy, and there will be moments that test your strength. Some of you may reach success quickly, while others may feel like you're standing still. But please remember, each of you has your own path, your own pace, your own season to bloom. And that's perfectly okay. Don't lose heart when things don't go as planned. Keep showing up, keep believing, and keep pressing on. Trust in the Lord with all your heart, because as the Word of God promises, "In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will make your paths straight." Wherever life takes you, know that I will always be cheering you on. I will always believe in you. And I will always, always be proud of you.

With all my love and blessings,

“But they who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles; they shall run and not be weary;
they shall walk and not faint.”
